WORTHINGTON CONFESSION HITS AT ENEMIES

'Wolf Of La Salle Street,' Dying Here, Reveals Crime Syndicate

John W. Worthington, Chicago's "wolf of La Salle street," fighting for life against disease in a Glendale hospital, today struck at his underworld enemies in a statement given to the district attorney's office in Los Angeles.

The statement, it was said, at the district attorney's office would clear up a number of eastern bond and mail robberies, including the gigantic St. Louis mail thefts of 1923.

While the authorities refused to reveal the asserted "confession" of Worthington, it was declared to contain information concerning activities of an eastern crime syndicate.

Revenge for barbarous torture, inflicted on Worthington and wrecking his health, when members of the crime gang were led to believe Worthington had "double-crossed" them in a stolen bond sale deal, caused the "wolf" to make the statement, Deputy District Attorney Joseph Ryan declared this afternoon.

During the torture several of Worthington's toes were burned by flames and later gangrene set in, it was claimed by the former Chicagoan. Several operations failed to restore Worthington's health.

Worthington, convicted in federal court in Chicago of participation in the disposal of securities claimed to have been stolen in a mail robbery, is under three years' sentence in Atlanta penitentiary. His health, however, is now so broken it was said by physicians he will not live to serve the term. Worthington is a patient at Glendale Sanitarium, where he is under the care of Dr. W. J. Johnson and Dr. H. W. Volmer. Dr. Johnson states that Mr. Worthington is in a serious condition, but that his death is not imminent.

Shingled Hair Disapproved by Royal Edict

LONDON, Eng., May 22.—Shingled heads of American debutantes have been bowed to the official royal edict, disapproving bobbed hair, it was evident today.

A majority of the girls presented at the first court last night and of those who will be presented to King George and Queen Mary at Buckingham palace tonight had bobbed hair, but it was artfully disguised.

The art of the coiffeurs wrought the change. There had been rumors that Queen Mary disapproved of shingled locks.

Shop girls had their chance to learn what the debutantes were wearing when the motor cars bearing 700 persons for presentation at court stretched along the Mall in a procession that was held up two hours before all alighted at Buckingham palace.

Mrs. Alanson B. Houghton, wife of the American ambassador and sponsor for the Americans who were presented, was regal in a gown of silver diamante with pearls, with a long train of mauve ostrich feathers down one side.

Queen Mary supervised the palace decorations, the dominant note of which was carried in great bunches of wisteria blossoms.

COLORADO IS SWEEPED BY CYCLONE

3 Killed, Houses Unroofed By Wind, Sand; Illinois Suffers Likewise

DENVER, May 22.—Three deaths and three seriously injured was the toll today of a wind and sand storm that reached cyclonic proportions in the northern and central parts of Colorado late yesterday. Houses were unroofed, miles of telephone poles blown over and much property damage resulted.

The dead are Loren Bennett, 55, of Boulder, carpenter, blown from house roof; Victor Falls, 5, of Beulah, drowned when wind upset a boat he was in, and Emily Steadman, 7, of Platteville, killed when the walls of a farm building blew over on her.

Illinois Suffers
CENTRALIA, Ill., May 22.—Two persons were killed, three homes demolished, trees uprooted and other severe damage done here today by an electrical storm which swept this section of the state.

The dead: M. B. Kesterson, 49, and his wife, Laura. The bolt of lightning which killed the Kestersons stunned their two daughters.

Reports from McLeansboro were to the effect one man was killed there.

Huge Property Damage
CARBONDALE, Ill., May 22.—Property damage in this vicinity will exceed several hundred thousand dollars, according to early indications, Marion reporting losses of $50,000; Herrin $50,000; Fairman $20,000; Centralia $25,000, and rural communities increasing these figures hourly.

Murphysboro and West Frankfort, whose dead totaled more than 300 in the tornado of March 18, were thrown into a near-panic. Hospital patients, survivors of the recent storm, grew hysterical. West Frankfort reported two buildings struck by lightning but no injuries or loss of life. Murphysboro escaped with only slight wind damage.

At Benton, a downtown building was struck by lightning, trees uprooted and telephone wires damaged. Fairman was apparently hard hit, with a dozen homes un-

New Mystery Woman Enters Shepherd Case

CHICAGO, May 22.—A new mystery woman, her name and address carefully concealed, today entered the tangled skeins of charge and counter-charge which surround the trial of William D. Shepherd, for the death of William Nelson McClintock, his ward.

The woman, according to information at the state attorney's office where she is to be brought for questioning, can tell of the events which preceded the precipitous flight of Robert White, supposed star witness for the state.

It is reported the woman was present at the White home Wednesday night when an unidentified man is said to have called upon him and had a lengthy secret conference with him concerning the Shepherd case.

Meanwhile the task of attempting to fill the jury panel continued with the efforts of the first four days virtually nullified when court convened. The defense's declaration of yesterday that "we'll take any jury you offer" apparently had brought no result as the bickering over veniremen continued uninterrupted today.

FRENCH SEIZE NEW FOOTING IN AFRICA

Sharp Battle With Tribesmen In Morocco Gives Troops Fresh Territory

FEZ, French Morocco, May 22.—French troops were in new territory today after a sharp clash with the Rifian tribesmen.

A French communique stated that French troops under command of General De Chambrun, successfully drove back the tribesmen in a violent combat at Ain-Agha last night.

Drive Under Way
PARIS, May 22.—A monster drive by a huge combined army of French and Spanish forces to destroy the Los Angeles river, and the Southern Pacific tracks; to lowering the Pacific Electric tracks to grade; and providing additional crossings over its tracks and to the providing of new highways or opening, straightening and widening existing streets, to carry through traffic across the city.

RUM CHASERS LAND RICH SHIPMENT

Vessel Innocently Docks In Boston Harbor, Eluding Rum Row, Nabbed

BULLETIN
ST. LOUIS, May 22.—The historical Anheuser-Busch breweries of St. Louis today received an "S. O. S." from Toronto, Canada, urging, if possible, all available beer to Ontario.

The request was received with in twenty-four hours after Ontario's 4.4 per cent beer had been loosed on an apparently very thirsty public.

The Busch officials, wiring Washington for a legal opinion on the exportation of beer, were informed that whiskey could be exported for medicinal purposes but that exportation of beer was unlawful, inasmuch as beer had previously been declared as having no medicinal value.

BOSTON, May 22.—After successfully eluding the alert dry chasers off rum row, the steamship Van of Jonesport, Maine, with $45,000 of choice liquor was seized early today at Commercial wharf and eleven members of the crew arrested.

More than 1000 cases of champagne and other select liquors valued at $45 a case and intended for fashionable clubs were seized. The vessel held the distinction of being the first to penetrate the web of carefully patrolled waters since Uncle Sam established his naval blockade of rum runners along the upper coast.

It was Boston harbor police who first got a "line" on the stealthy wet ship and tipped off the customs inspectors who made the raid, seizure and arrests.

Liquor Removed
Innocently, the ship had plied up the harbor to Commercial wharf unmolested and unimpeded, as she was reported to carry a coastwise cargo. As honest "tars" made her fast, bootleggers began to semaphore strictly business messages. They had been attracted to the vessel like wharf cats to a kipped herring cargo from Scotland. The liquor was removed to government bonded warehouses and the eleven prisoners to the federal building.

Speeded Eastward
This amount, in $2 and $5 stamps, was placed on the package and it was started on its way to San Francisco, where it will be put aboard a United States air-mail plane and speeded eastward.

The package left Glendale at 5:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It will arrive at Bellefonte, Pa., by airplane at 2:55 o'clock Saturday afternoon. From there it will be speeded by train to Philadelphia, arriving there at 7:35 o'clock Saturday night. This will be a record for quick time via air-mail, with a package that breaks all previous marks for high postage, not only for the Glendale postoffice, but, in all probability, for all offices in Southern California, Hallett said.

TANKO ELUDES SLEUTHS SUCCESSFULLY IN NORTH

San Francisco, May 22.—Joe Tanko, San Quentin fugitive, did not furnish very exciting news the last twenty-four hours. Apparently the desperado has found a secure hiding place and is remaining under cover until the excitement connected with his chase subsides. No reports as to Tanko's whereabouts have been received by the San Francisco police. A strict watch, however, is being maintained and scores of cities are ready at a moment's notice to start on his trail again.

COAST GUNS TESTED
LOS ANGELES, May 22.—Tests of the famous French 155 millimeter guns to determine their feasibility in coast defenses of Los Angeles was made today at Fort MacArthur. A report of the tests will be made to the war department.

Sets Record For Postage In Air Mail

GEORGE HALLETT, assistant postmaster of Glendale, posed with a package sent eastward by air-mail yesterday afternoon. The postage, totaling $107.72, sets a record.

The record for a single piece of mail posted out of Glendale was set yesterday afternoon, when a truck from the Glendale Engineering Co. backed up to platform at the postoffice and unloaded a small package destined for the branch plant of the engineering concern, located at Philadelphia, Pa. The package contained a rush order of steel parts to be sent by air-mail.

Assistant postmaster George Hallett directed postal workers in moving the package into the postoffice and onto the scales. It weighed just twenty-eight pounds, which, at the regular air-mail rate of 24 cents per ounce, brought the total postage to the neat sum of $107.72.

Speeded Eastward
This amount, in $2 and $5 stamps, was placed on the package and it was started on its way to San Francisco, where it will be put aboard a United States air-mail plane and speeded eastward.

The package left Glendale at 5:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It will arrive at Bellefonte, Pa., by airplane at 2:55 o'clock Saturday afternoon. STING TAKES VALUABLE METROPOLITAN STAKES
NEW YORK, May 22.—Sting, holder of the world's record for a mile and seventy yards, won the historical Metropolitan stakes at Belmont park here this afternoon, over a mile. Sarazen, the Vanderbilt gelding, unbeaten this year, failed to share in the money. Sting covered the route in the fast time of 1:37. Shuffle Along was second and Serenader third.

Official statement
The following statement was issued today by the Glendale Traffic commission:

Glendale has its share of civic organizations. Any one new one has to demonstrate where and how it can function before it is looked upon with favor. Twenty-five of Glendale's leading business men met at the Egyptian Village cafe yesterday. After listening for over an hour to M. Walters, president of the Glendale Traffic commission, and to Dr. Miller McClintock, traffic consultant of the Los Angeles Traffic commission, as they explained the purposes of traffic commissions, every one present said "Glendale needs one, Glendale must have one, we need it now."

After outlining the "Major Highway Plan," which has been adopted by Los Angeles, Dr. McClintock said:

GIRLS EDIT COPY OF TROJAN PAPER

Fair Sex Proves Revelation At U. S. C. When Work Appears In Print

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southern News Service
LOS ANGELES, May 22.—When members of the inferior sex were apprized that girl members of The Daily Trojan staff at the University of Southern California were to edit that paper without the aid of such campus satellites as Marquis Busby or Chet Mackey or Lee Conti, they expected something in the way of a revelation. It was, as one of the men members of the staff comments:

"The entire paper shows conclusively that the women are as able to handle the news as men." And he points to two features, one on the subject of "Cavemen," and the other an editorial, as proof of their ability. Extracts from the latter, entitled "College Women and Marriage," follows: "Some girls come to college not only for intellectual pursuits, but because it is quite the thing to do, and it is a bore to stay home when one may seek the company of other sociable young creatures like oneself."

"To this type of college girl the extra curricula are most attractive, for her there is probably no appeal in the possibility of a career, and the university would want to wear her away from the idea of marriage—which, in many cases, is her objective. But who can say that she has not absorbed something from higher education which will better fit her for the exacting duties of a wife and mother?"

Mary Louise Leung, the author, continues: "If men were once inclined to adopt a condescending attitude toward the feminine element on the campus, they can now only regret their short-sightedness. The success of these women in college often brings to them visions of fame and a career of service. To these a monotonous round of dish-washing and baby-tending appears irksome, to say the least, in contrast with their soaring ambition. . . . But to the majority—the appearance of the Prince Charming—and they gladly fling 'careers' and all their wonderful independence to the four winds."

Dorothy Herriman writes sympathetically on the subject that "caveman stuff" is "applesauce." One prominent young man on the U. S. C. campus whom she interviewed said, "It all depends on the girl" whether or not she likes the rough stuff. Girls admitted they like being ordered around but not "yanked" around.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, May 22.—Officers and members of the Guild of St. Luke's of the Mountains met at the home of Mrs. Seymour Thomas yesterday afternoon to complete plans for the garden party to be held in the grounds of Cuddle Doon next Thursday afternoon. A musical program by members of the Crescenda Women's club will add to the entertainment. Cakes, jams, jellies and fancy work will be on sale. A small admission fee will be charged. The chief attraction of the affair will be the exhibition of Bishop Johnson's portrait which recently was completed by Seymour Thomas, internationally famous artist. After the exhibition the portrait will be hung in the hall of the Good Samaritan hospital in Los Angeles. Bishop Johnson, through his efforts, made possible the erection and maintenance of the hospital.

Mrs. Charles Turck, president of La Crescenda Women's club, was a guest at the Around-the-Tea-Table luncheon party held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Fisher, in Glendale. Members of the music section of the La Crescenda Women's club met at the homes of Mrs. R. Q. MacDonald and Mrs. A. F. Hopkins, in Highway Highlands, during the week, for rehearsals in preparation for the concert to be held in Los Angeles next Wednesday night. The chorus met this afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. A. Haskins, Waltonia drive, for rehearsal.

Parts for the new play to be given by the drama section of the La Crescenda Women's club were given out yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the section, which was held at the home of the curator, Mrs. Jessie Hansen. "The Modern Crusade" is the play chosen, and will be given some time in June, for the benefit of the building fund. Those who will take part are: Mesdames Jessie Hansen, Eloise Farmer, Marian Tiliary, Virginia Mitchemore, Anna Aiken, Blanche Hopkins, Roy Tate, Dorothy Pinkus, R. Q. MacDonald and Colin Cable of Glendale.

Mrs. Charles Turck has asked all interested in the allied arts to meet at her home next Tuesday night, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Turck feels there is enough talent in the valley to form an arts club. While living in Glendale Mrs. Turck held these salons at her home, which were looked forward to by those interested in such affairs. Mrs. Turck's home is on El Centro avenue, just above Michigan avenue, between Rosemont and Briggs avenues.

"UNDER CONTROL" Because he drove with one hand and had the other arm around a girl's waist, a Cheshire, England, man recently was fined in court for "not having control of his car."

COAT FROCK SETS FASHION IN PARIS

Style Continues To Lead Spring Models For French Women

By ALICE LANGELEIR
For International News Service
PARIS, May 22.—The coat frock continues to be one of the leading features of the spring collections now being shown by the smart Paris dressmaker.

There is, probably, nothing more practical than the combination coat and frock in this uncertain Parisian climate, where one scarcely dares to venture out without some kind of a wrap. The coat frock is especially useful even during what are considered the warmest months in the French capital.

The coat frock, which opens straight down the front, is, perhaps, the most popular. It is very straight in general lines, with or without a belt, or has the circular flare around the bottom and is worn with an underslip of contrasting color, showing through the opening down the front.

Cream-Colored Silk
Madame Dina is showing a charming model, in cream-colored corded silk, with the front opening embroidered in red and black and worn over a black satin slip. The slight flare around the bottom is quite typical of many of Madame Dina's models.

Jeanne Lanvin favors kasha, in all the new shades, for her coat frocks. One of the smartest is in bright red, buttoned down the front, where there are deep revers, lined with black and white polka-dot surah. The lower part of the frock, below a narrow belt is split in panels, lined with the dotted surah and showing a surah underskirt beneath. Another one is in asbestine-green and buttoned down the front in the same manner, with the revers lined in similar polka-dots.

For Town Wear
Neat little coat frocks for town wear come in silk poplin. One model from Maguet's buttons up each side, or looks as if it does. More buttons trim the front of the bodice, and there are buttons on the very long, tight sleeves. Blue poplin, reps and finest serges are still the old favorites for the practical every-day coat frocks. Many times they come over figured silk or crepe foundations, and this year's models show dainty white collars and cuffs for trimming.

Jenny is showing an amusing sham coat dress, which is neither coat nor frock. From the back it appears to be a coat, while in front it is merely a half-dress. It is made by a straight front-piece being attached to the coat under the arms, and thence this front-piece ceases to be a dress and becomes the lining for the coat.

BULLETS FOLLOW MYSTERY THREAT

Burbank Youth Shot Twice
By Unidentified Assailant
Firing From Ambush

Cecil Kinnard, 18, of 337 Palm avenue, Burbank, was shot and wounded in a desperate fight yesterday with an unidentified man, after threats had been made to the manager of the dairy at Kimball where Kinnard is employed that unless that youth kept away from the vicinity of 1023 Santa Anita avenue, Burbank, "where $5.25 was stolen," he would be killed.

No mention of the letter was made by the dairy manager to Kinnard. It was signed "The Three Terrible X's."

Assailant Appears

When Kinnard was delivering milk yesterday near the address mentioned in the threatening letter a man sprang from concealment and grappled with the youth. When Kinnard was getting the advantage of his assailant the man wrenched away, stepped back, drew his revolver and fired twice.

The youth threw up his arm and received both bullets in the forearm. As he staggered from the shock of the bullets, the man fled. Kinnard drew his own revolver and fired several shots, none of them taking effect. Neighbors called police who found the youth weak from loss of blood. An investigation is under way in an attempt to uncover the identity of the would-be assassin.

Woman Doctor Named Club Women's Leader

Dr. Mariana Bertola of San Francisco, active in child welfare work, and prominent California club woman, was elected president of California Federation of Women's clubs yesterday, at the twenty-fourth annual convention closing today at Santa Cruz. Other officers elected were Mrs. Lydia Lawhead of Woodland, vice-president; Mrs. Henry C. Goodell of San Bernardino, vice-president at large; Mrs. George W. Turner of Fresno, treasurer; Mrs. G. A. Rigg of Oakland, auditor. Installation was held last night. Glendale women are interested in the withdrawal of Mrs. O. W. March of Chico, as contending candidate for president. It was last fall at the Tuesday Afternoon club in Glendale, that Mrs. March made first public acknowledgment of her candidacy for the state presidency. During the regime of Mrs. John C. Urquhart, Mrs. March was vice-president.

Advertising Campaign For Valley Under Way

Three hundred persons volunteered their efforts at a meeting last night at Hollywood of the Greater San Fernando Valley association, for the campaign to begin Monday to raise $150,000 for advertising the entire valley. In addition to Los Angeles people, residents of fourteen cities and communities of the San Fernando valley attended last night's session. A. Z. Taft, Jr., of Los Angeles, is president of the association.

Today's Friday, Fish Day, And It's Fitting Day to Offer These Three Tales

By CAL FISHER
For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—There are stories about fish, also fishy fish stories, told by fishermen. The following were caught without bait at the office of the California State Fish and Game commission here:

Really Want To Catch Some Fish? Here's Tip!

Six and seven pound steelheads, a large and husky variety of trout, are now running for anglers in June lake, Mono county, according to Edwin Hedderly, deputy fish and game commissioner. The officials are wondering how large these fish will become in fresh water. They were planted several years ago, the eggs being taken from Eel river in the Snow mountain country.

June lake is in the high Sierras, seventy-two miles back of Bishop, with good roads practically all of the way, according to Hedderly. He states that Mono streams abound in cutthroat trout, as well as the Lochleven and native rainbow varieties. "Fishing is the best it has ever been there," this authority declares. With the warm weather deep sea fishing also is popular.

Housekeepers! Lookit! Here's For Your Menu

C. S. Bauder, another deputy of the fish and game commission and a resident of Glendale, has this to add about the commercial fisheries of Southern California: The black Alaskan cod, which is barbecued, is fast becoming a delicacy in Southern markets. Although most of the catch comes from the Puget Sound, several hundred pounds were caught off Los Angeles during the last month.

Squids, which make a dish enjoyed by peoples from the Mediterranean, also are being caught and sold commercially, Bauder advises. The devilfish variety is eaten by the Japanese. A heavy run of squids this season indicates tuna schools are in the vicinity, the two running together. Grunion and eel are among other fish caught for sale in small quantities, according to Bauder's reports.

Maybe They Do And
Maybe They Do Not, But—
Now for a yarn that will make oldtimers doubt. Jay Bruce, state lion hunter, is authority for the statement that the cats do not scream. They are a silent animal, he says, but the screams are those of hoot owls in the tree tops, he believes.

Bruce is working in the San Bernardino mountains and killed his two hundred and twenty-eighth cat since being employed to rid the woods of predatory beasts. It measured six feet, according to his report to the commission's office today.

ELECT CHAIRMAN OF ATWATER CIVIC BODY

J. J. Wray Chosen as Head of Executive Committee; L. R. Brigham Is Named
Secretary and Treasurer

J. J. Wray was elected chairman of the executive committee of the Atwater Improvement association when that body met to organize for the year last night. The executive officers chose L. R. Brigham, 3964 Brunswick avenue, well-known Atwater attorney, as secretary-treasurer, to succeed P. E. Lipscomb, resigned.

Plans for a membership drive to increase the membership of the association to 1000 were laid at the meeting. The matter will be placed before the association at its meeting Monday night. The present membership is approximately 350.

New committee chairmen, recommended by the executive board, will be voted on at Monday night's meeting also.

Brush Fire Threatens

A brush fire that started in the Los Angeles river bed at the foot of Garcia street at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, threatened for a while the destruction of half a dozen frame dwellings in the vicinity. Apparatus from the Los Angeles fire department extinguished the blaze before it gained sufficient headway to do much damage. More than two acres of brush were burned over.

Bond Issue Campaign

Active campaigns in favor of the library and bridge bond issues to be voted upon June 2, are contemplated by the Atwater Improvement association. Executive officers of the association issued an appeal today to voters of the district to solidly support the library issue as its passage means a library building for the district. The necessity for new bridges at Glendale and Hyperion boulevards was termed "imperative" in the appeal. The Chambers of Commerce of Glendale and Burbank will be asked to furnish large banners to be placed across the street in the Atwater section advocating the passage of the bridge bonds.

Masonic Lodge Tonight

Charter members of Atwater Masonic lodge will hold an important meeting at the Knights of Pythias hall, Brand boulevard and Park avenue, Glendale, tonight. Fred Chapman, acting master of the lodge urged a large attendance at the meeting.

Tuesday Club Will Be Scene Of Press Lunch

Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Glendale, junior past-president of Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, will be a guest next Tuesday at the press luncheon at the Tuesday Afternoon club, according to Miss Eva Daniels, chairman of club publicity. Following announcement of luncheon guests and speakers in The Glendale Evening News Wednesday, the demand for tickets has increased. Reservations will close at noon tomorrow.

"It is my intention to make Glendale Girl Scout council one of the finest in the state," Mrs. LaGrange said this morning.

At the council meeting yesterday Mrs. Mary Smith was named deputy commissioner to succeed Mrs. Brennan, resigned. Mrs. Oliver Clark was named treasurer, to succeed Mrs. M. Adele Wichter, resigned. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. A. A. Barton for a gift of a chair. Troop captains are to meet June 1 to complete plans for a summer camp. The Glendale Girl Scouts are to conduct the service Sunday night, June 7 at First Congregational church.

Glendale Soloist Has Many Recitals Booked

Miss Elizabeth Mottern of 211 North Adams street, well-known Glendale soloist, has several engagements to play and sing at recitals. On May 27 Miss Mottern will act as accompanist in the senior recital being given by Miss Drusy Bell Gordon of University of Southern California. Miss Mottern will sing at a recital June 4, to be given by Miss Mary Taylor of the college of music, University of Southern California.

Police Warn Merchants About Stolen Checks

Glendale merchants were warned today by Chief of Police John D. Fraser that 100 pay checks were stolen yesterday from the Los Angeles office of the Southern Pacific Co., and that yesterday afternoon a number of them were cashed in Pasadena. When the department received word last night of the activities of the pay check band, Chief Fraser notified druggists and others whose places of business were open. Today the word was broadcast through the office of the Glendale Merchants' association.

Spanish War Veterans To Join In Memorial

W. S. Teter, adjutant of the local camp of Spanish War Veterans, announced today that members of the camp and women's auxiliary will meet at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning at First Methodist church, North Kenwood street, for the Memorial Day services.

Retired Banker Sees Changes In Glendale

C. C. Vennum of Canyon drive, West Hollywood, was a visitor in Glendale yesterday, stopping at The Glendale Evening News office for a chat with A. T. Cowan, whom he knew years ago in Morrison, Illinois. Mr. Vennum, who is a retired banker, has resided in Southern California eight years. "I am amazed at the growth of both Glendale and Hollywood," said Mr. Vennum. "I remember what a change there has been in Glendale in the eight years I have lived in California. It is remarkable."

Buffet lunch and refreshments will be served. Music for the affair will be furnished by Morris Burke's orchestra. All Elks and their friends are invited.

GLENDALE FLYER LEADS BIRD LIFE

Al Gilhousen, Famous Pilot
Of Southland, Makes
Daily Air Trips

"Fly and the birds fly with you, walk and you walk alone," so says Al Gilhousen, famous pilot flying from Glendale airport. Gilhousen makes trips over Glendale or any other Southern California city daily. Hundreds of local folk have enjoyed the sensation of flying over house-tops and getting a panorama view of the entire section of California south of the Tehachapi range. "Every day new flying enthusiasts are made by the wonderful trips we are giving to the Glendale public and it will not be long before a person who has not enjoyed a flight will be as rare as the well-known four legged equine," claims Mr. Gilhousen.

RAINS HURT FRUIT

SACRAMENTO, May 22.—Unseasonable rains are injuring California fruit. Cherries in the Sacramento valley are splitting and becoming unfit to ship. Strawberries have been hit in midseason, growers estimating the loss at 30,000 cases.

VOLUME XX NUMBER 229

Daily Greeting to News Readers

OUR GREATEST GLORY—

Consists of our ability to make good in little things. Is our dependability under any circumstances. Lies in our ability to make new friends without losing the old. Appears when we refuse to allow success to spoil us. Never seems to impress the home folk much. Is not in unusual performance, but unflagging effort. Is won on the day we overcome our greatest difficulty.

THE WONDERERS

Who are the geniuses of the world? Strange and paradoxical as it may seem, they are not the ones who are interested in the exceptional, the rare. They are those to whom the commonplace makes an appeal, to whom the everyday things are extraordinary. Where we, the mass of mankind, see in the routine of life a matter of course, they point out the things that we have not noticed; they wonder and inquire and learn. The poets, story-tellers, religious leaders, theologians, philosophers, artists, scientists and inventors all have a compelling curiosity that enables them to see and hear things when the rest of us are blind and deaf.

Sir Joshua Reynolds said: "Invention is little more than a new combination of those images which have been previously gathered and deposited in the memory: nothing can come of nothing: he who has laid up no materials can produce no combinations." In other words, nothing can come out of the brain that has not first been put in.

How often do we hear it said: "Why couldn't I have been the one to have written that beautiful poem or contrived that ingenious invention? Because we are blind; because, having eyes, we see not. To see the things before our eyes, to be curious about the commonplace, to ask questions, is to store up in the memory the materials of which genius is made. Someone has said that a genius belongs to the noble band of wonderers.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN

The California Development association, working with the automobile clubs of the state, will inaugurate a Highway Safety campaign on the first of June. The mounting list of automobile fatalities makes this necessary and highly desirable. When we think of safety campaigns we think of safeguarding the pedestrian, but statistics reveal the fact that occupants of cars suffer more than people on foot.

The motorist has two chances of accident—one from his own carelessness, the other from the recklessness of other drivers. Therefore, it is to be hoped that this campaign, or one phase of it, will deal with the responsibility of drivers, for stupid, nervous, ill or drunken motorists are encountered too often on the highways.

When a man asks for a job as a streetcar motorman or a taxicab driver he must prove by tests that he is physically sound, steady, sober, attentive, honest and responsible. A streetcar company or a responsible cab company will not take risks. But a man may fail to have any of the qualifications required for a taxi driver and be rejected by the company; yet, he can turn around and buy a car and mere ownership is sufficient license for him to operate a death-dealing machine on the highway. One of the first steps toward greater safety on the highways is to get this driver off the road.

HOME OWNERSHIP

Everyone knows the sentimental value of owning a home, as compared to renting a house, for much has been said about that intangible something that enters into a house and makes it a home as soon as it becomes ours.

But, considered from a material point of view alone, home ownership is so much of an asset that it is surprising every citizen does not make an effort to become his own landlord. Home ownership establishes a man as a definite part of the community and has more than a little influence in transactions with the banker and in other business deals. There is something stable and substantial about a man who owns his own home, small though it may be, that the same amount of money invested in anything else could not give him.

A home owner who was once a renter points out that $75 a month rent on a house will at the end of ten years net the renter a $9000 stack of rent receipts, while $9000 will buy, free and clear, a home of the equivalent of a $75 a month rental value. Moreover, a small fraction of the $9000 will secure the home and the balance may be paid like rent.

There are many reasons why people rent, but home ownership is much to be desired by any family, from any standpoint.

COUNTRY ON UP-GRADE

Those people who delight in statistics showing that the country is going to the dogs will get cold comfort from the April building figures compiled by Uncle Sam.

April building in the entire country this year exceeded the record of a year ago by 34 per cent. California is keeping pace with the rest of the country and leading most of it. Nineteen of the twenty-five leading cities of the country reported April increases. San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Washington, Baltimore, St. Paul and Dallas, Texas, all showed substantial increases. Detroit was the only large city reporting a smaller figure than last year, but this is explained by the fact that a number of large permits were issued during the earlier months of the year and construction is now in progress. Yonkers, N. Y., had a gain of 435 per cent. Seventy-six Pacific coast cities had a 16 per cent gain. Glendale's gain over last year was approximately 25 per cent.

FUTURE OF PACIFIC TRADE

Eventually the largest city of the United States will be located on the Pacific coast and the Pacific ocean will take the place of the Atlantic ocean as the center of the world's trade. This is the prediction of Roger W. Babson, recognized as the prophet of the business world the country over.

The Pacific coast has all the advantages of the east and south and in addition the possibilities of commerce with Japan, China, India and the Far East. The great financial and industrial undertakings of the Orient will necessarily be launched from this coast. Markets for American products in the Orient are growing steadily.

Los Angeles has already become the second port of America, San Francisco has the finest harbor in either North or South America, Seattle is nearer China. But these three cities should have no quarrel. The Pacific coast should unite to bring about her golden age.

UNTER DEN LINDENS

The Dog and His Tail

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There is a constant tendency for the tail to try to wag the dog.

That is, there is a tendency for a thing that is but an appendage to think that it is the whole show.

There is the legend of a fly who was on the cowcatcher of an engine and who exclaimed, "Oh, see what a big dust we are making!"

Athletics comprise only a part of a youth's training, and a minor part. The body is always inferior to the mind.

Children are sent to school primarily to train their minds. What a man amounts to in this world usually depends on the quality of his brain.

It is the brain and its development that distinguishes a man from the lower animals.

Yet a constant tendency is to magnify athletics over mental culture. This is a tendency that ought to be restrained.

Athletics are good in their way and for their purpose, but they do not constitute the main thing for which one is sent to a university. There is a university out west of which the coach for athletics gets more money than his president.

Frequently the standing of a college is determined by the matter of prohibition.

Many people in New York think that prohibition is a failure because of its many transgressions in New York.

In that city there are doubtless a number of "speak easies" and bootleggers, but it is a mistake to argue from this that such things and persons exist all over the country.

The majority of the country is in favor of the abolition of the saloon, and they know of no other way to accomplish this than by abolishing the sale of alcoholic liquor.

For one to say that the whole matter has failed because it is not quite a success in New York is to claim that the tail wags the dog.

Very frequently the baby in the household makes more trouble than all the rest of the members combined. By crying and otherwise making a nuisance of itself it attracts the most attention.

It is really of the least importance. At least it is the least important member of the household.

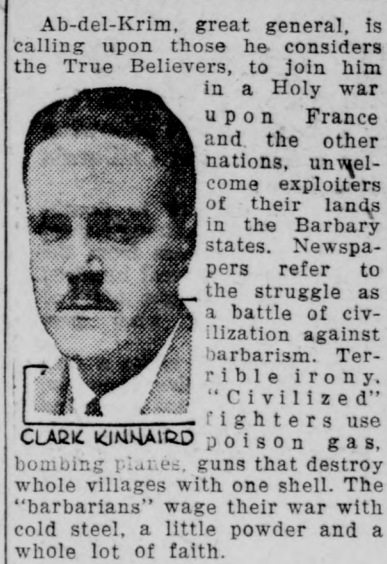

It is a case of the tail wagging the dog. It is more by the success of its athletics than by its curriculum.

There is a tendency for the tail to wag the dog in the matter of prohibition.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNAIRD

CLARK KINNAIRD

Ab-del-Krim, great general, is calling upon those he considers the True Believers, to join him in a Holy war upon France and the other nations, unwelcome exploiters of their lands in the Barbary states. Newspapers refer to the struggle as a battle of civilization against barbarism. Terrible irony. "Civilized" fighters use bombing planes, guns that destroy whole villages with one shell. The "barbarians" wage their war with cold steel, a little powder and a whole lot of faith.

Are these people barbarians simply because their mode of existence is different from our own?

Their thoughts are much the same as ours. Their common wisdom, as reflected in their proverbs, is closely akin to our own. Here are some of their axioms:

Covetousness has for its mother, Unlawful Desires; for its daughter, Injustice; for its companion, Violence.

Haste comes of Satan and wise slowness of Allah (God).

When the stomach is involved, wisdom withdraws.

When the eye does not see, the heart does not grieve.

The food of the lion brings indigestion to the wolf.

Who seeks for wealth without having any is like him who carries water in a sieve.

Patience is the key of glory.

The calamities of one nation turn to the benefit of another.

Three persons united against a town will ruin it.

What can I think of thy virtues, O onion, since every bite draws tears?

Follow the voice of the dog, not of the jackal; the one leads the village, the other to the desert.

Riches are the fomenters of desire; the thirst after wealth is more vehement than after water.

Patience is the key to joy; but haste is the key to sorrow.

If Allah proposes the destruction of an ant, he allows wings to grow upon her.

The wound caused by the lancehead is curable, but that caused by the tongue cannot be cured.

The crown of a good disposition is humility.

A harlot repented for one night. "Is there no police officer," she exclaimed, "to take up harlots?"

The tongue is the neck's enemy. A fly is nothing, yet it creates loathsomeness.

The remedy against bad times is to be patient with them.

Do no good and thou shalt find no evil.

Who's Who

Of much importance to the United States is the recent promotion of Sir William Tyrrell to be permanent under-secretary of state in the British government. Sir William had been assistant under-secretary.

Sir William, besides being assistant under-secretary of state was also the principal private secretary and "chef de cabinet" of Lord Grey throughout the latter's ten year term of office as minister of foreign affairs, ending in 1916, and owing to Grey's frequent trouble with his eyes he came to depend in an exceptional degree upon Sir William as his trusted and devoted aide.

Tyrrell has been many times in the United States. One of his most important and least known missions was in the fall of 1913, when the then newly appointed British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, as one of the very closest friends of the late Theodore Roosevelt, and the best man at his wedding in London, did not perhaps on that account at first command the appreciation which he afterward enjoyed on the part of Woodrow Wilson. In fact, the relations between the White House and the British embassy were for a time so lacking in cordiality as to excite public comment here and in London, where demands were made, especially in the Northcliffe press, for Spring-Rice's recall. In the autumn the ambassador, whose health was never very strong, had a nervous breakdown, and the attacks upon him in the London press became more than ever insistent.

Now Lord Grey had a very high and well justified regard for Spring-Rice's diplomacy, and with his knowledge and consent, Tyrrell, one of Rice's closest friends, arrived quietly at the embassy and unobtrusively assumed entire charge thereof, but doing everything in Rice's name instead of in his own, and remained in Washington for several months until the patient had completely recovered and all the misunderstanding had been cleared away.

Another of Tyrrell's special missions to the United States was when in the role of envoy and minister plenipotentiary he accompanied his former chief, Viscount Grey of Fallodon, on the occasion of the latter's special embassy to the United States as high commissioner in 1919.

VAUDEVILLE STAR TELLS OF SUCCESS

Grace La Rue, Songster
Coming to Orpheum, Says
'Hard Work' Necessary

"The essentials of a stage success consist of three elements: Personality, temperament and hard work. And of these the greatest and most indispensable is hard work."

Thus advises Grace La Rue, the liquid-voiced songstress, who is coming to the Orpheum theatre next week. And by virtue of the fact that she is a vaudeville star and dramatic stage luminary of the first magnitude she is peculiarly fitted to speak of the forces that enable one to rise to the top-most rung of the ladder.

"The greatest mistake that all young stage aspirants make, sooner or later, is to think that temperament and personality are sufficient in themselves to bring fame. That is not so. You've got to put hard work behind it—the sort of hard work that means no rest, that means the sacrifice of all pleasures, until the goal has been reached, and then you must start all over again, because, so far, you have succeeded only in laying the foundation of the foundation."

In her recent British tour Grace La Rue is said to have received $5600 a recital.

Moroney Clothes Shop Postpones Its Opening

Vincent Moroney, of Moroney's Clothes Shops, manufacturers and retailers of men's suits and top coats states that he will be unable to open his store in Glendale at the corner of South Brand and Colorado boulevard, tomorrow, as has been formerly announced. Strikes and other unfavorable factory conditions make it advisable to postpone until early fall the opening of the Glendale store.

"We shall not open our Glendale store until we can have an adequate stock, and that will probably be early in September," said Mr. Moroney. This concern sells men's suits at two prices, $22.50 and $27.50 and top coats at $22.50.

Jane Cowl to Rehearse For New Play in Fall

When Jane Cowl finishes her present engagement at the Playhouse next Saturday evening it will mark her final appearance in this most popular of Shakespearean roles. She has enacted Shakespeare's heroines for two years and has broken records in cities all over the United States, despite the fact that Shakespeare is commonly supposed to spell ruin "on the road."

Miss Cowl will start rehearsals, after a short vacation, on a new play in which she will open in New York next fall.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, May 22.—The Hollenbeck Ebbl club favored the members and friends of the Tujunga Women's club, Monday night, with a presentation of their "California Day Program." This was given by members of the dramatic and musical sections of the Hollenbeck Ebbl club of East Los Angeles. The program was announced by the president of the club, Mrs. F. L. Poyas.

The entertainment opened with a chorus singing "I Love You California." This was followed by two readings by Mother Boyesen, 86 years of age, the oldest member of the Hollenbeck Ebbl club. These were original poems entitled "California" and "A Southland Spring Morning."

Then came a duet by two members of the music section, followed by the reading of two poems, one on California of which the general manager of the Southern Pacific lines is author. The other, John Steven McGroarty's poem "Way Back Yonder." A short outline of California history was then given by Mrs. J. A. Sweet, leader of current events section. The chorus again favored the audience with a song, "La Paloma," after which the one-act play "The Path of the Padres" was given. This is an original play written by Miss Kathryn Englehorn, chairman of dramatic section of the club.

The Tujunga Women's club hopes to reciprocate with an entertainment for the Hollenbeck club during the year.

The regular meeting and annual election of officers of the Tujunga Women's club was held Thursday, May 14. The attendance was one of the largest during the current club year. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Lillian Wheeler; first vice-president, Mrs. Edith L. Eighenhofer; second vice-president, Mrs. Valentine Gore; third vice-president, Mrs. Edna Bell; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Maggie Kautz; recording secretary, Mrs. Minne Pratt; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lina A. Shumway; treasurer, Mrs. Anna Underhill; auditor, Mrs. Edith Buck; federation secretary, Mrs. Harriet Barry; parliamentarian, Mrs. Mary Mills. During the meeting, Mrs. Minnie Pratt gave a report of her visit to the opening of the Athletic Club building in Los Angeles, with an interesting description of the building. Mrs. White told of her visit to the reciprocity meeting of Burbank Women's club, and gave an account of their program.

Mrs. Minnie Dunn was appointed to confer with the La Crescenta Women's club relative to the latter giving, in Tujunga, the musical program recently presented by them in La Crescenta. This covered American music from the Revolutionary times to the present, given in costumes of the periods represented.

Notice has been received that the Tujunga Women's club has been accepted as a member of the General Federation of Women's clubs. This is the national organization of women's clubs with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The revised by-laws of the Women's club have been printed in a neat pamphlet form, and were distributed to members at the annual election meeting last week.

Flirt Scores

Evelyn Brent, in "The Dangerous Flirt," at Glendale theatre: big vaudeville bill is also arranged.

Another actress has broken away from "type" portrayals, and steps forth in a new light before the great army of American movie fans. Evelyn Brent, who has gained marked success as a skillful and adroit interpreter of heavy and semi-heavy roles, is now starring in a series of P. B. O. productions, the first of which is "The Dangerous Flirt," which opens today at the Glendale theatre.

Miss Brent takes the part of a wealthy young society girl, who has been suffering from repression all her life. This offers the actress a characterization entirely different from those which have made her famous, and she promises to create a new niche for herself in the hearts of motion picture followers.

A rare treat will also be provided by Althea Lucas & Co., in "Their Artistic Triumph" with a series of graceful exhibitions of muscular development in cradle work and posing. A musical novelty is presented by Billy Carmen in his act "Behind the Bars" in which he has perfected a fadeout effect similar to that employed in the movies.

Arthur Miner and Ken Browne are two college youths who get a lot of fun by kidding themselves and Miss Billie Mullen "The Sun-brite Pair" do a comedy sining, dancing and talking turn that furnishes plenty of laughs.

Reel Laughs

HAROLD LLOYD, appearing in "Hot Water" at the Cosmo theatre.

They came, they saw and they were conquered, captivated and sent into hysterics. The time was last night, the place was the Cosmo theatre, and the reason for all this excitement, was the opening of Harold Lloyd's latest feature Pathe-comedy, "Hot Water." Mere words cannot express the extent of the outburst that greeted the spectacled comedian's latest triumph. The audience did a great deal more than laugh. They shrieked, roared, howled and yelled.

Lloyd is seen as a young married man who is continually in "hot water" with everyone, from his in-laws to traffic cops and street car conductors. He goes through all the trials and tribulations that have beset married men since that fatal day when Adam took a bite of the forbidden fruit in the Garden of Eden. The Eve, in his case, whose family cause a great deal of the trouble, is none other than Jobyna Ralston, whose ravishing beauty caused so much eye-strain, when she was seen as the dainty heroine in "Why Worry?" and "Girl Shy."

GAS CONSUMPTION

CHICAGO, May 22.—Twenty thousand gallons of gasoline a minute, every hour of the twenty-four, is the estimated rate of demand for the United States for 1925, according to DeWitt Foster, director of the American Research Foundation, in an address here.

GULF COAST OIL

HOUSTON, May 22.—Daily average oil production in the Gulf coast and South Texas fields in the last week was 181,745 barrels, an increase of 1,245. Forty-one new heavy oil producers added 29,575 barrels to initial production.

The Big Red Cars, on which you ride, cost from $25,000 to $45,000 each to build. 7,000 employees are paid $9,000,000 yearly in salaries to operate the lines.

Golf Stockings Shock Law School Students

PARIS, May 22.—Golf stockings worn by an American student in the University of Paris Law school have caused a howl of protest from all the other students.

For years inhabitants of the Latin quarter have been seeing Russian boots and Hindu turbans, without even so much as a raised eyebrow.

When a graduate from Williams or Columbia ventured to appear in the halls of the law faculty wearing what was regulation campus attire back home he got a shock. The entire student body and many of the professors neglected lectures and notebooks to gaze on the pink and purple splendor of his hose.

The following day letters of complaint were sent to many French papers, and those stockings formed the subject of sarcastic comment for Paris cartoonists.

FOUR-LEGGED BABE

ADVENTISTS PLAN TWO-DAY SESSION

Seventh-day Denomination Meet Monday, Tuesday For Conference

The question of a union of church and state, and the effect in general of blue laws and religious restrictions upon the citizens of California will be considered at a two-days' convention of the Southern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, to be held at the Seventh-day Adventist church, Isabel and California streets on Monday and Tuesday.

W. F. Martin, religious liberty secretary for the Pacific coast and associate editor of Liberty magazine, will preside at the sessions. Prof. C. S. Longacre of Washington, D. C., international secretary of the Religious Liberty association, will be present and will take a leading part in the discussion.

Blue Laws Opposed
The evil effects of religious legislation, especially as applied to Sunday closing laws, will be one of the leading topics of discussion. Martin said today. California and Oregon, he said, are the only states in the union which have no Sunday laws on their statutes, but there are "certain organizations" which are endeavoring to obtain religious legislation in both states.

The convention will bring together Seventh-day Adventist clergymen from all Southern California, as well as the Pacific Union conference, which has jurisdiction over the denominational work in California, Arizona, Nevada and western Utah.

Modernists Expected To Win In Presbytery

the Presbyterian church here by John R. Voris, associate general secretary of the Near East relief, following his return early in the week from five months' tour of the Near East.

Modernists of the Presbyterian general assembly were scheduled to win their second battle with ultra-fundamentalists today over demands for the expelling of the New York Presbytery, according to predictions of high church parliamentarians.

The overture of the Chester, Pa., Presbytery demanding abolition of the New York Presbytery as a result of the Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick case in the First Presbyterian church, New York, and the setting up of a new Presbytery, "loyal to the standards of the church," cannot be pushed to a decision, it was declared.

Minority Complains
Complaints of a minority of the Presbytery against its action in the Gantz case, in which the right of the Presbytery to license candidates for the ministry who have not directly affirmed their faith in the Virgin birth and other bitterly fought tenets, is questioned, were expected to bar consideration of the overture when rulings are demanded upon sections of church law governing such action.

Dr. John M. T. Finney, a lay commissioner and chief surgeon of John Hopkins university, Baltimore, was to be named as vice-moderator today, by Dr. Charles R. Erdman, newly elected moderator.

Appointments
Three commissioners who figured in the race for election as moderator, were to be named by Dr. Erdman as chairman of important committees.

Dr. William O. Thompson, president of Ohio State university, was slated to be chairman of the bills and overtures committee; Dr. Lapsley A. McAfee, Berkeley, Cal., as chairman of the committee on Christian education and Dr. Harry C. Rogers, Kansas City, as chairman of the committee on ministerial relief and sustentation.

Other committee chairmen to be named include: Resolutions, Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, Los Angeles, Cal.

Two persons were killed outright at Centralia by lightning and a third reported dead at McLeansboro.

The heavy downpour of hail inflicted severe losses to crops.

Two persons were injured when a small twister hit an evangelistic meeting at Herrin, hurling the huge tent skeltering for half a mile.

Two machines made the flight, one in command of Amundsen, who discovered the South pole, and the other piloted by Ellsworth. Both machines are of the Dornier-Walt type and carried fuel for a flying radius of 6000 miles.

Weather conditions at Spitzbergen were favorable and each man was prepared with clothing and food rations to attempt to make the journey on foot in case of accident.

feat the fanatical Riffian tribes in Morocco was indicated in dispatches which reached Paris from Madrid today.

Both countries will simultaneously bombard the Moroccan land troops and Abdel Krim's headquarters at Ajdir, said a dispatch to the Matin from Madrid. This was said to be a part of an agreement which had been entered into by General Primo Rivera, high commissioner for Spanish Morocco and M. Malvy, former French minister. In addition the agreement is said to allow each nation to execute a separate campaign.

ADVOCATE DITCH FOR FLOOD WATER

Receive Specifications On Plan From Supervisors For Canyon Project

Construction of an open ditch to divert the flood waters from Sycamore canyon into Verdugo wash at Sinclair avenue by the Los Angeles Flood Control commission, instead of an underground tunnel as originally planned will probably be agreed to by the City Council within the next two weeks.

This was predicted today with the receipt from the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors of specifications for the construction of the ditch. The specifications must be approved by the council before June 11 or plans for the work will be dropped by the county and the funds diverted to other flood control operations.

A committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council met with the Board of Supervisors several months ago and asked that funds be appropriated from flood control bonds for the construction of the tunnel to carry flood waters from Sycamore canyon.

Hearing Was Set
At the present time Chevy Chase drive must carry the bulk of the water to the southern part of the city and thence into the Los Angeles river.

A hearing was set by the board, but it has been continued from time to time. The present action was not expected by the city, although it was known that there has been opposition to construction of the tunnel.

The board has been asked for engineer's plans of the proposed ditch, to be presented to the council before June 5. The project must be approved by the city before flood control engineers can start work. It is feared that rejection of the plans, however, would cause the funds to be diverted to other channels.

Special attraction for Glendale women attending the cooking school at the Coker and Taylor store, 209 South Brand boulevard, is the Direct Action Gas range, to be awarded at 4 o'clock Friday, May 29, according to D. B. Jones of the stove department.

Mr. Jones states that the contest is open to anyone attending the cooking school, conducted every Wednesday and Friday afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock. The fame of the Coker and Taylor "cooking laboratory" has traveled far, and not only Glendale women, but women from nearby communities attend the classes conducted by Mrs. G. W. Hamilton, domestic science expert.

Roundtable Feature
In addition to giving instruction in the various lines of culinary art, Mrs. Hamilton presides over an informal roundtable discussion of home problems. Household hints and valuable suggestions for kitchen efficiency feature every meeting of the class.

During recent years in developing this phase of their business, Mr. Coker and Mr. Taylor have made Glendale women acquainted with the Direct Action Gas range, with the bottomless oven, and equipped with the heat meter, which has been declared by culinary experts to be the missing ingredient in all recipes.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

"You can't beat the game!" That is the slogan being used in a crime prevention drive in New York. It was applied with equal emphasis for the benefit of dry law violators by Federal District Attorney S. W. McNabb, who spoke before the Rotary club here yesterday.

More than that, he told why the game cannot be beaten. Every time a bootlegger is bagged in the possession of several thousand dollars' worth of booze his financial backers, known as the rum ring, refuse to carry on further dealings. They are in the business for money. And it takes a longer profit than the public is willing to pay, sooner or later, to "beat the game."

It was interesting to hear this United States prosecutor tell of the conferences now going on between Mexico and this country at El Paso for the purpose of tightening the borders against smuggling of dope, aliens and booze.

More good will come from stopping the surreptitious landing of liquor by small boats from the coast of Lower California than chasing the phantom rum ships in the Pacific, although that work is to be carried on.

And Attorney McNabb sensibly said that "It will be a long time before there will be no violations of the prohibition laws. You must take into consideration the fact we are exaggerating violations and not giving credit to what prosecutions are accomplishing. Conditions are not what you are led to believe. While we are prone to take conditions as they exist, the national prohibition law enforcement situation is improving rapidly."

These additional views are given today because of the favorable impression Mr. McNabb's speech made upon his hearers as well as those who read the account of his speech in The Glendale Evening News yesterday.

A youth—a genius hobo, if you please to call him that—was riding from Glendale into Los Angeles on the Pacific Electric line the other evening. He had made his way across the country and was gladly looking forward to what the future might hold in store for him here.

It was apparent to the writer, who shared a seat with him, that the fellow wanted to talk. As the car swung around the Ivanhoe hills and the twinkling lights of Glendale and Eagle Rock and northern Los Angeles danced in the dusk of early evening, the boy could contain himself no longer: "This is the most beautiful ride I have taken; whoever built this road had an eye for scenery; you know the people who live out among these hills must be happy; it is so wonderful."

And so he chatted, becoming more amazed as the metropolis of Los Angeles spread itself in its glory of lights and crowds of people.

That youth has something ahead of him, he has a vision of great things. Likely he will never know this has been written, yet wouldn't it be fine if all of us could keep the brilliance of this southerner in its glory, as it first appeared to us, a treasured memory?

Perhaps you do, who knows?

'BUNGLED' IS OPINION IN GAS BILL

Governor Raps Pork Barrel
Amendments As Counsel
Renders Decision

SACRAMENTO, May 22.—Governor Friend W. Richardson today announced that he had received an opinion from the attorney general in regard to the gas tax bill. The attorney general holds that the bill would repeal the present 2 cent gas tax and leave all gasoline free from tax from July 24 to September 30, 1925; that the Senate amendments are unconstitutional, but if they are held valid that all gas money would be frozen until January, 1927. Governor Richardson today said:

"The attorney general has handed me a well considered and exhaustive opinion on the gas tax bill. He is positive that 'if the bill is approved, there will be a period of approximately two months during which no tax will be payable.' Of the three paragraphs added to the bill in the Senate and called by me the 'pork barrel' amendments, the attorney general says 'that they must be held to be invalid as violative of the constitutional provision that an act shall embrace but one subject,' but if these paragraphs are valid, he says: 'The money provided in the bill for reconstruction and new construction through the State Highway commission would not be available for expenditure until January 1927.'

"Here is a pretty mess of bungling by legislative legal lights who framed the bungled bill and amendments. If signed, the result would be as follows:

"1. Nine weeks when millions of gallons of gasoline sold would escape all tax.

"2. The loss of more than eight millions of dollars of road money to the counties and the state.

"3. The act as written would raise no money until May, 1926, one year hence.

"4. Pork barrel amendments so badly bungled as to be unconstitutional.

"5. If pork barrel amendments are valid, then all gas money would be frozen and all work stopped until next session of the legislature.

"6. To permit a referendum of this unconstitutional and bungled bill would be futile and expensive."

The attorney general in his opinion to the governor says:

"If approved, the bill would become effective not earlier than July 24, 1925, and not later than July 28, 1925, by reason of section 1 of article IV of the state constitution which provides, with certain exceptions not here applicable, that 'No act passed by the Legislature shall go into effect until ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the Legislature which passed such act,' and section 323 of the Political Code, which declares that 'Every statute, unless a different time is prescribed therein, takes effect on the sixtieth day after its passage.'

Two Months 'Frozen'

"The date of the passage of an act within the contemplation of that code section is the date of the approval of the act by the governor. Upon the taking effect of the bill, the provision in section 3 of the amended act imposing a tax of 2 cents per gallon upon distributors of motor vehicles fuel would cease to exist, because section 3 of the bill substitutes a tax of 3 cents for the present tax of 2 cents per gallon and provides that the 3 cent tax shall not be payable until September 30, 1925. In consequence, if the bill is approved, there will be a period of approximately two months during which time no tax will be payable.

"If the last three paragraphs of the bill dealt exclusively with the state highway maintenance fund and the state construction fund created by the bill, it could safely be said that they prescribed a logical method for the attainment of the end desired by the Legislature, but they are of far greater scope. The provision for the submission of a budget to the Legislature refers to a budget which comprehends proposed expenditures by the commission from any and all statutory funds available for new construction and reconstruction and detailed program of all highways to be constructed or reconstructed without regard to the sources of the payments thereof.

"From this analysis of the bill it is to me manifest that they are concerned with subject matter not cognate to the field covered by the existing statute, that they should have been enacted as separate legislation, and that they must be held to be invalid as violative of the constitutional provision that an act embrace but one subject. The provisions in said paragraphs are so related and interdependent that they cannot be segregated in order that some of them be saved.

"This is in reply to your inquiry as to the time when the funds created by the above entitled bill would be available for expenditure by the state highway commission, assuming that the last three paragraphs of the bill are valid.

"In the last paragraph of the bill it is provided that all expenditures made by the commission for reconstruction and new construction shall be in accordance with and contingent upon the filing of the biennial budget and the annual supplemental budget required by the two paragraphs immediately preceding, and it is thereby made the duty of the state board of control to require that such expenditures be actually made in accordance with such budgets.

"The first supplemental budget would be filed in January, 1926, and the biennial budget would not be filed until January, 1927, the time for the next regular session of the legislature. Therefore, the moneys provided in the bill for reconstruction and new construction through the state highway commission would not be available for expenditure until January, 1927."

Up and Down Main Street

Being a poor professor's wife has its disadvantages

PARTICULARLY when you have young daughters. How could she expect her girls to grow up into fastidious young womanhood in such a shabby place? "One's immediate surroundings do have such an influence," she sighed. "One's immediate surroundings"—the solution dawned on Mrs. Robey. From the store she bought large cans of ivory and gray Acme Quality Enamel-Kote, and smaller cans of dull rose and delicate blue and pale green. Then, while the girls were away on a visit, she painted all the woodwork and furniture in their rooms—one in ivory, the other in soft gray, with quaint garlands of flowers for decorations. For the windows she chose snowy Swiss curtains, crisp and ruffled, and for the floors, delightful hooked rugs. You can't imagine what an effect it has had. Two such charmingly neat, well-groomed girls you have never seen!

EXCURSION RATE IN EFFECT TODAY

More Than 150 Glendalians Take Advantage Of Cut Prices To East

Opening day excursion trains to the east, traveling out of Glendale and Los Angeles over the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific lines, carried over 150 Glendale people, according to reports from the local ticket offices of the three roads. Many more Glendalians will take advantage of the excursion rates during the next few days and will bring the total travel out of this city for the week, to approximately 600 persons, it was estimated.

Summer excursion trains to the east opened this morning over all lines. Thousands from all parts of the Southland took advantage of an early start by embarking on their summer trips the first day reduced rates were in effect. The ticket sale in Glendale was considered exceptionally heavy.

Four Sections Leave
S. M. Sullivan, Santa Fe ticket agent for the city, said that approximately 100 persons would leave on the California Limited and other Santa Fe trains today. He estimated the Glendale travel for the first week of the excursion season over the Santa Fe will be about 250. Nine sections of the California Limited, crack Santa Fe train, pulled out of Los Angeles today laden with Southlanders on their way east. The first section left at 12:01 o'clock this afternoon, other divisions pulling out at ten-minute intervals. There were four sections of the California Limited, the other in soft gray, with quaint garlands of flowers for decorations. For the windows she chose snowy Swiss curtains, crisp and ruffled, and for the floors, delightful hooked rugs. You can't imagine what an effect it has had. Two such charmingly neat, well-groomed girls you have never seen!

Over the Southern Pacific, special trains via Golden State Limited to Chicago, Sunset Limited to New Orleans and New York and special sections via San Francisco to Chicago, left throughout the day. Many of the trains passed through Glendale, making stops at the Glendale Southern Pacific station. Fifty Glendalians left over the Southern Pacific today, according to figures of Arthur J. Rehbold, traveling passenger agent. There will be at least 150 out of this city for the first week of the excursions, he said.

Heavy Traffic
Traffic to the Atlantic seaboard is heavier than usual this year, Mr. Rehbold stated. Many persons expecting to spend the summer in Europe are taking advantage of the rail excursions to New York.

Seven sections of the Los Angeles Limited, Union Pacific flyer to the east, left Los Angeles this morning starting at 10:50 o'clock. Many Glendalians embarked for their summer trips over this route, although the bulk of the Union Pacific travel from Glendale will leave Sunday, which has been made special Glendale day. More than half a hundred local people will leave on the Los Angeles Limited and Continental Limited over the Union Pacific on Sunday, C. A. Redmond, city passenger agent, said. A special Glendale car for Chicago will leave over this route Sunday. Approximately 200 tickets for the first week of the excursions have been sold at the Union Pacific office in Glendale, Mr. Redmond said.

Summer excursion rates which went into effect today are good until September 15 with a return date limit of October 31. All tickets sold are round trips.

URGE ZONING LAW CHANGE IN CITY

Provision For Industrial Sections Outlined At C. C. Meeting

Tentative drafts of a proposed change in the Glendale zoning ordinance that will, if carried into effect, permit sections that are now in the business zone the privilege of transferring into what will be a business and light industrial district, were presented by a sub-committee when the industrial board of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon.

The report of the sub-committee was read by T. W. Watson, chairman of the City Planning commission. It embodied recommendations that the City Planning commission and City Council take up the matter of changing the zone in any district of a block or more in extent, upon petition of 50 per cent of the affected property owners. Clauses in the recommendation also provide that once the matter has come before the council and is passed upon favorably, a protest by 20 per cent of the property owners can render the action null and void.

Permit Expansion
The proposed change in the ordinance would, it was pointed out by Mr. Watson, permit a great expansion in the light industrial field in districts now zoned strictly for business, should it be the desire of property owners in these districts to permit such light industries.

After consideration, the industrial board returned the report of the sub-committee for further work, suggesting that a specific list of "light industries" be included. Final action of the board in recommending the report to the City Council for consideration and possible incorporation into the zoning ordinance of the city will be taken when the industrial department meets next Thursday. Lloyd H. Wilson, chairman said.

C. R. Smurr, new member of the industrial committee and industrial expert of the Southern Pacific railroad, advocated a change in the present city ordinance which would permit a wider scope for light industries yesterday. He said that by building a solid industrial foundation now, the city of Glendale can become the commanding industrial section of greater Los Angeles in the future.

Glendale Applies For Grade Crossing Right

Applications from the city of Glendale for permission to install grade crossings over the tracks of the Pacific Electric railway at Kenilworth and Gardena avenues have been received by the state railroad commission at San Francisco, it was announced in that city today.

The petitions were authorized by the City Council several weeks ago. On Gardena avenue, for which permission for a temporary crossing was recently given by the commission, it is desired to install a permanent crossing. If granted, it will serve a wide territory directly north of the Southern Pacific tracks.

The city asked the Kenilworth crossing because of the present inconvenience of residents in the northwestern part of the city who are required to drive several blocks in either direction to cross the Pacific Electric Burbank line.

Hearings will be called by the commission to be held in Los Angeles.

Glendale Dry Goods' Sale Proves Success

The stock reducing sale being held at the Glendale Dry Goods Co., 115 East Broadway, "has been most successful" say J. P. and Minnie Holzman, proprietors of the store. The sale will continue Saturday and Monday, to give those who did not secure any of the advertised specials the past week an opportunity to get their share of bargains.

FIND STOLEN CAR

A new roadster, driven but a few miles, stolen Wednesday night from in front of the Gateway theatre, was found hidden in a clump of trees off San Fernando road near Doran street early this morning by local police. The machine was owned by F. R. Clark, 100 North Everett street. The front of the car had been raised on jacks and the wheels and tires removed. An effort had been made to pull the rear wheels and brakes off the machine. All other removable parts had been stolen.

South Africa is now considered the "smart" place for jaunts of English travelers.

Before a large and appreciative audience, assembled at the auditorium of the Broadway High school last night, the members of the Glendale Elks' state championship band, presented a program filled with artistic selections. Proceeds of the concert are to be used in defraying expenses of sending the band to the national convention at Portland, Ore., where added honors are expected to be won.

DOUBLE HANGING IN SALEM, OREGON

Crippled Astrologer, Aged Man, Pays Full Penalty For Murder Today

SALEM, Ore., May 22.—Lives of two more convicted murderers were snuffed out here today when Arthur Covell, crippled astrologer, and L. P. Pearce paid the penalty on the gallows at the state penitentiary.

Covell, helpless from the waist down due to an accident, was carried into the death chamber, up thirteen stairs to the scaffold and supported by attendants while the noose was adjusted. He was swung into eternity for plotting the murder of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ebba Covell at Bandon, Ore., September 3, 1923.

Pearce, white-haired and 70, was hanged for the murder of his wife and a neighbor, James Culver, when he ran amuck on his farm near Myrtle Point, Ore., December 27, 1922.

Pleas Denied
Hundreds of pleas came to Governor Pearce to commute their sentences to life imprisonment on account of Covell's physical condition and Pearce's advanced age. But the state executive refused to intervene, saying that he had reviewed the evidence carefully and that the elements of first degree murder appeared in each case.

It was the fifth multiple execution staged within the walls of the penitentiary here and the second since restoration of capital punishment in Oregon four years ago.

BANKER'S VIEW

SANTA BARBARA, May 22.—In his address before the California Bankers' association, Leo S. Chandler, retiring president, and widely-known Los Angeles financier, declared:

"The west coasts of Mexico, Japan, China and South America are calling for capital to develop hydro-electric power, build railways and irrigate lands. If we furnish capital through the absorption of bonds or industrial loans, we may be able to sell material with which to do the work. All of California should endeavor to become an international in thought, attitude and action, broadening and strengthening our relations with banks and bankers international in character."

"California bankers should not only invite, but induce international banks to come to California, and to see that no change is made in our banking laws which would restrict their activities unwisely."

NON-VOTER GIVEN RAP BY KIWANIAN

Van Nuys Member Tells Club Such 'Failures' Should Be Fined

"I have as much respect for the man who talked against taking up arms in 1917, as I have for the person who calls himself an American citizen and then refuses to exercise his right of franchise in the polls in the coming election," declared George H. Bunton, secretary of the Van Nuys Kiwanis club and secretary of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, in an address delivered before the Glendale Kiwanis club at the meeting held today noon at the Tuesday afternoon clubhouse.

"If I had the power, I would assess a fine of $25 against a man or woman who does not vote, and if there was a protest lodged, I would disfranchise him," he added.

"We need to be fearful of the slacker in peace time, more than we were of the slacker in war days. How can we expect democracy to stand when 35 per cent of the voters determine the policy of a city, as evidenced at the recent Los Angeles primary election? It is un-American and unsafe."

Speaking on the subject of religion, he said the modern so-called Christian man and woman is the most intolerant person in the world. Touching on education, he said only one-tenth of a child's life between the ages of 5 and 16 years is spent in school, and that danger is imminent when the average mind tries to buck up against the trained mind in educational matters, referring to the evolution squabble in Tennessee.

Three addresses were given in behalf of the Memorial Hall bond issue by Richardson J. White, representing the American Legion; Lyman P. Clark, representing the Spanish War veterans, and Rev. C. R. Norton, representing the G. A. R. The attendance prizes, donated by Emil Keifer, were won by David Gregg, William Winkle, Henry Kuhn and Mayor Harry MacBain. The silent boost was contributed by Mr. Keifer.

Visiting Kiwanians present today were:

C. E. Lindsey, of Eagle Rock; Walter Mendenhall, Louis Grange, and George H. Bunton, of Van Nuys; Roger Hafer, of Pasadena, and Ted Covell, of Burbank. President Fox announced the zone meeting next Monday night at San Fernando.

RUSSIAN STATUS TOLD OPTIMISTS

Better American Federation Representative Against U.S. Recognition

Stressing the need for a great revival of interest in the American constitution as the best means of combatting socialism and communism in the United States, George Rice, representative of the Better American Federation, told Glendale Optimists today noon that recognition of the present Russian government would mean the placing of Russia on the level of the United States in world diplomatic circles and would give the Communistic movement the advantage of an ambassador and consulate service in the United States through which to disseminate even more efficiently than now the false doctrines of the movement.

Mr. Rice rapped advocates of disarmament declaring that the loudest call to disarm is coming from Moscow and that Russia itself has the largest standing army in the world.

"Do we want peace at the price of national disintegration?" he asked.

The Optimists met at the Egyptian Village cafe, Dr. C. R. Lusby presiding. Albert G. Cornwell was voted to membership in the club. Dick Barksdale, J. H. V. Adams, W. J. Carson and Hal Lewis, new members of the club, were assigned to committee work. Col. James W. Everington spoke briefly, advocating passage of the $150,000 bond issue for a memorial hall in Glendale. In a communication from international headquarters the Glendale Optimist club was complimented on its unique stationery, bearing the Optimist emblem being flown as a kite by two small boys pictured in the lower corner of the sheet of paper. A three minutes "craft talk" was given by Hal Lewis on "Credit Jewelry Business."

H. V. Adams was presented with an Optimist lapel button by the club. Club singing was led by A. H. Voelker, with S. S. Gilbuly at the piano. The Glendale Optimists will be largely represented at the meeting of state Optimists at Los Angeles next Friday.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

Mrs. D.—The eyes always suffer in measles and the patient has to be kept in a darkened room and his eyes given attention, for this reason.

There is always an inflammation of the conjunctiva (the membrane that covers the eyeball and lines the eyelids). There may be a purulent (pus) secretion. It is very important to wash the eyes frequently with an eyewash—boracic acid, one teaspoonful to the pint of hot water, is a good solution.

In the case of your little grandson, I presume his eyes must have been so severely affected that the eyelash roots were destroyed. As you have taken him to specialists and they cannot seem to help him, it looks discouraging, but don't lose hope.

Sleeping Position

Mrs. J.—There is nothing injurious in the baby's sleeping on his abdomen part of the time, but if he insists on taking that position all of the time and cannot seem to sleep in any other way, there is a possibility that he is uncomfortable in any other position.

You must find out the reason for that.

Take him to a baby specialist or clinic and explain this and have a thorough physical examination made of him.

I know of one case of a baby who apparently was in pain except when he slept on his face, and it was found, after an X-ray examination was made, that he had a safety-pin lodged in his lungs in such a way that it irritated him when lying in any position but on his face.

Don't be frightened. I simply mention it so that this possibility will not be overlooked.

Unaccountable coughs in children and adults should be investigated with the X-ray, too. Surprising things are found in the lungs at times. There are physicians who specialize in taking these things from the lungs through the trachea (wind-pipe), so should the X-ray disclose anything of this nature you would have to get in touch with such a specialist.

This Kicking Allowed

"Dear Doctor Peters: I wrote you some time ago, telling you my troubles. I was so disgusted with myself, for although I am only 28 years old and five feet four inches tall, I weighed 175 pounds. My baby was only two months old.

"On receipt of your instructions on reducing and diet in pregnancy and nursing I started to count my calories. I certainly would like to see you to tell you just how much I appreciate your work. It seems almost too good to be true. I weigh now only 130 pounds. Thirty-five pounds in about six months. Isn't that fine? While counting calories I did my daily dozen and your kicking exercises. I'm some kicker! Kicked off five inches around my hips.

"I'm going back to maintenance diet now and I know I will have to watch my weight carefully, because I sure do love ice cream and pastries. But I guess I'll control my appetite for six months I can do it now.—Mrs. C."

Mother can reduce with great benefit even while nursing their babies, so long as they are careful not to cut out any of the essential foods—milk, vegetables and fruits, whole grain breads and cereals, nuts, eggs, etc. They should cut out excess sweets and fats, pastries, bread and butter, etc.

Forty-five pounds in six months is a fine loss. That's at the rate of seven and one-half pounds a month, which is a very good rate. Congratulations on your wonderful results.

P. S.—You ate off part of those five inches.

Mrs. J.—We have Weight-Height-Age tables, which you may have by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ask for list of books on Sex Hygiene also.

Hard Sauce

The canning experts at the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., tell us to can rhubarb as follows:

Begin by cutting the stalks in half-inch lengths, after washing. Measure these rhubarb pieces by cupsful, and add one-fourth as much granulated sugar as rhubarb. Put the fruit and the sugar into a baking dish just as it is, and slip the dish into a hot oven, covered, to bake till tender. Then pack it, while still hot, in hot glass jars which you have "sterilized" as follows: place jars, empty, with their glass covers, in a pan of cold water; bring water to the boil and let continue to boil for 15 minutes. Drain and keep warm, till packed with the fruit (or vegetable), by wrapping in towels wrung out of hot water.

After packing the jars with the rhubarb, put on glass covers and put top wire up but do not press down side wire; stand the jar in this way on a rack in your wash-boiler, in boiling water which risers over the jar top. After water recommences to boil, count the time. It should be allowed to boil around the jar for five minutes (this five-minute-period is not to cook the contents of the jar—for they are already cooked; it is merely to insure keeping and to create a vacuum seal.)

When you remove jar from the wash boiler, press down the side wire at once and invert to test for leaks.

Rhubarb Jelly—Make homemade pectin as follows: chip the white part from the skin of oranges and soak one-half pound of it for four hours with three cups of cold water and three tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Bring this mixture to a boil, let continue to boil ten minutes, then cool it; add another three cups of water, once more bring to a boil but this time remove from range immediately and let stand overnight. In the morning again bring to a boil, cool instantly, and use when needed. To make jelly with it, cut rhubarb stalks in short lengths without peeling. Weigh. You will need two and one-half pounds of it. Add one cup of water, heat slowly, and let boil for 15 minutes. Then pass through a jelly bag and measure the strained juice. To four cups of this juice add eight cups of granulated sugar; bring to a boil and add one scant cup of homemade pectin. Again bring to boil, remove from range after one-half minute, let stand one minute, skim and turn into sterilized jelly glasses.

WHITE ARMS

Dorothy C. L.—Extract all the coarse and dark hairs by using tweezers, and bleach all the fuzz

Sleeves on the smartest summer frocks run to two extremes, they are either so long they half cover the hand, or they are practically non-existent. The girl who has pretty arms will no doubt want to show them as much as possible while fashion still says so. But if she does she must remember that bare arms will sunburn, and that sunburned arms, though pretty enough on the beach, or at an afternoon party, are ugly and out of place when in evening dress.

So, though she will expose her arms to the summer sun she must not allow them to be sunburned. I think she will find some of these suggestions valuable. First of all, rub the arms thickly with talcum powder before going outdoors, apply the talcum with one of those flat lamb'swool puffs, which is the best way of rubbing it into the skin. This will help a great deal in protecting the skin against sunburn. Second, carry a parasol with a dark lining if you can, or, if you are the athletic sort of girl that hates bothering with these fripperies, wear a chiffon scarf over your shoulders. Bright-colored chiffon scarfs, plain or with a batik design, are still very smart, and are an excellent way of introducing a dash of color to one's costume. A scarlet or purple scarf over the arms will practically prevent sunburn, as these colors do not permit the actinic rays of the sun to pass through them.

Rub the arms at night with cucumber cold cream or cucumber lotion. In the morning rub the arms with oatmeal paste (which is nothing but left-over cold oatmeal porridge) or scrub them with oatmeal soap, or rub them while wet with dry oatmeal powder. Oatmeal is an excellent bleach, particularly effective on the arms. Or use starch paste.

Janice M.—For excessive perspiration on the hands, feet, and under arms, use a powder in which there is a very little salicylic acid. Any drugstore will mix you such a powder, which is much better than for you to try to make it for yourself.

Bleaching Lotions Help the Arms

With peroxide, but you should never shave that will increase the growth and make the hair very stiff.

BANTAM KING TO RISK HIS TITLE

Charley Rosenberg Meets Harold Smith Tonight In East Chicago

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.
NEW YORK, May 22.—It will be interesting to see what Chicago promoters make of their attempt to put Chicago back on the fighting map. A bill to legalize boxing in Illinois has passed the House and if it becomes a law, as seems likely, the Windy City impresarios will start right in to compete with New York, the west coast, Milwaukee and other fight centers.

In the meantime Chicagoans will have to follow their usual practice of going out of town to view their sporting spirit. Tonight will see a lot of them in East Chicago, where Charley Rosenberg, the world's bantamweight champion and Harold Smith, a stockyards product, will hook-up in a ten-round bout. Smith holds a decision over Bud Taylor, but he ought not to trouble the champion greatly. The bout will be a no-decision affair.

Getting back to Chicago, boxing enthusiasts will recall with strong emotions the time that an attempt to ease boxing into the city through the medium of a benefit show was made. Benny Leonard was the main attraction and the attendance was all that could be desired. In spite of the fine gate sweet charity received less than $75. And that ended boxing bouts with a charity angle.

At Corbett, the Cleveland featherweight is now regarded as being ready to tackle Danny Kramer, the tough Philadelphia. In winning a decision over Rosey Stoy, a dangerous left-hander who has been turning in some impressive bouts against men like Carl Tremaine and Bud Taylor, Corbett is regarded as prepared to soar into the top flight of his class.

Kramer is a southpaw, too, and if Corbett can get by this lad he will be straight in line for a crack at the title held by Kid Kaplan.

Mickey Walker weighed over 150 pounds against Lefty Cooper and this fact bears out Mickey's statement before he left here for the west coast that he intends to build himself up for Harry Greb. As for Greb he had planned to fight every week right up to the week of the battle with Walker. But in his recent bout with Billy Britton at Columbus he detected signs of staleness—so did the spectators.

So the middleweight champion has cancelled all his bouts with the exception of a sharpening-up fight with Jimmy Nuss in Marquette, Mich., on June 5.

This out of the way, he will face no one but sparring partners until the time comes for him to step into the ring against the welterweight king. Betting on this bout by the way has not appeared yet. But from the talk of the layers it looks as if the theory that a good big man should beat a good little man will apply.

HAWKS HITS HARD

Hawks, leading the National league hitters, ran on another rampage and slapped Mays for a single and a homer that gave the Phillies a 9 to 1 verdict over the Reds.

BEAT WHITE SOX

The Red Sox sank Blankenship with a shot below the water line in the seventh and won from the White Sox 9 to 7.

ISADORE KESSLER SAYS:

Few men are proud of their figure, but all men figure it is better to show that they are proud to wear a tailored suit.—J. Korn, 221 S. Brand Boulevard, "Right in Glendale."

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.
NEW YORK, May 22.—Baltimore has an embryo home run king in Roser, the Oriole leftfielder, whose praises haven't half been sung as they should. He may not equal the record of 59 made by Babe Ruth, or the 55 held by the swatting cowboy, Kraft of Fort Worth, but if he can hold the pace he is setting now, he will put both those figures behind him before the season is over.

Considering the length of time he has been hammering the International league pitchers, he had batted harder than the Bambino at his best. He has thirteen so far, an average of nearly half a home run per game, and that, if he could carry on throughout the season, would mean a record of 75 homers.

Roser, by the way, hasn't all apple dumplings and had no apple sauce in trying his record. All the grounds on which he plays are not bandboxes by any means and on some of them he must deliver a genuine Ruthian wallop in order to circle the bases.

Collectively, the clubs of the International are hitting about as well as those of any circuit. The tail-end team in batting is Rochester, which was regarded as less likely than some others to fall into the rut when the season started.

But batting cannot be the sole winning factor in the circuit, since the Baltimore, who are in the lead, are just above the tailenders in the batting column as a club.

The International, in addition to providing a home run hitter of note, has a pitcher in Joe Maley of Buffalo who should be getting into the big time soon. He pitched six nine-inning games without a defeat.

The Yanks have a string on Maley and there are some who think he should be Yanked New York-ward at once, and hurried into the American league fray in place of some of the old timers, which has become so well seasoned that it seems to be disintegrating.

BROWNS ARE BURIED

Connie did not come to praise the Browns, but to bury them. He did so with his little ball club, the Athletics, by a score of 20 to 4. Gordon Cochrane equaled the modern major league record by socking three homers. Gray won his eighth straight game.

Back In Sport Spotlight

Secret of Babe Ruth's Popularity Is Salary

The secret of Babe Ruth's great popularity, at least so far as England is concerned, is out. Jack Foote, a sports writer, has discovered it. He says: That Babe Ruth's illness should cause a furor throughout this country was to be expected. He is a dramatic figure who can hold the interest of the mob at any and all times. That his illness should cause excitement in England and earn headlines on the first pages of conservative dailies, is really surprising. We are a sporting people, but if Great Britain's greatest cricketer should fall sick, our papers would scarcely carry a line about it.

The answer, of course, is not hard to find. It does not lie in England's interest in baseball. The people of the isles never will get over the "glorified rounders" view of our national sport. It does not lie in Ruth's personality either, for he is a stranger over there. Their interest hinges on the Babe's enormous salary. They cannot grasp the idea that a professional baseball player can earn as much as the president of the United States. They stand in awe before that unassailable fact.

Hagen Is After Added Honors In Golf World

In 1922 Walter Hagen won the British open golf championship, in 1922 he was second by a stroke to Arthur Havers. Last year he won again. This is a marvelous record, but Walter is going over again, seeking to make it three out of four.

Despite the fact that he is the greatest golfer in the world, the odds against Hagen are enormous. They probably are about 20 to 1, but the "books" will hardly offer more than 5 to 1 against him.

This is because the American has the ideal competitive spirit. Traditions mean nothing to him. He is a maker of traditions.

England will offer her best veterans and her gallant youngsters to oppose him, but Walter will go his serene way, intent only on the shot to be made—never bothering about what has gone before or what lies ahead. Havers, however, is playing some wonderful golf on the other side.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP BY FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.
NEW YORK, May 22.—Yassuh, Mistah Battling, Owens, Harry Wills' former sparring partner, who is now working with Charley Weinert, certainly has got a grouse on the brown panther. And, since he cannot meet Harry, he is going to show the Adonis how to do the trick.

According to Owens, Wills is not the fighter he is cracked up to be, and would like nothing better than a chance to meet him in the ring with five-ounce mittens.

"And, brother," says the battler impressively, "Ah'm ready to put it in the contract that Ah'll walk home to N'Awlins if I don't beat Mistah Wills." Uppity talk. Mistah Owens, uppity talk!

There is a report that something is the matter with Wills' left hand and that he is protecting it with a plaster cast while in training.

It is the usual sort of gossip that sifts out of every training camp.

Gene Tunney is tipping his friends that he counts on winning from Tommy Gibbons by a knockout. If Gene does this, he will find he has taken the shortest cut to fame and money that any boxer has taken since Dempsey flattened Jess Willard at Toledo.

There could not be the slightest question of the justice of the decision against Sammy Mandell at the Queensboro on Monday night. Yet, it was a tough one on the Illinois fighter, who was swarming all over Jimmy Goodrich when he pulled the foul—accidentally, of course—and had the battle on points by a mile.

Sammy had no one to blame but himself, however, as in his eagerness he had been shooting them and low more than once and had been cautioned by the referee to keep 'em up.

Winning the Goodrich bout, Mandell would have had no opposition ahead of him in advance to a place in the lightweight division, where he would be regarded as entitled to sit on Benny Leonard's vacant throne. As it is, the lightweight tourney becomes even more of a joke than it has been.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Those close to rowing affairs at Cornell ask graduates to reserve opinions as to the 1925 Cornell eights until after the Poughkeepsie regatta has been rowed. Defeats on the Charles River by Harvard and on the Housatonic by Yale are regarded as short distance affairs for which the Ithaca eights have not been specially trained.

All this may be true, but the fact remains that the history of American rowing since 1911 at least has proven abundantly that the winning short distance eights are the leaders over the long distances.

Charley Logg, the University of Washington captain a few years back, who has been assisting Dr. Spaeth with the Princeton crew is not to be held accountable for the Tigers' lack of success this season. For Logg is not in any way serving as head coach, but just what this title implies, an assistant.

Logg has a farm house out in the open country about three miles from Princeton and when he is not coaching he is tilling the soil. The Princeton rowing men like him very much and it would not be surprising if Dr. Spaeth, who started rowing at Princeton and carried it to high prestige among the aquatic colleges, will shortly retire from active coaching and let Logg have the full swing.

The former Washington captain by the way, had a great time last Saturday, foregathering with Edward Leader, his old coach, Don Grant and Murphy, all University of Washington men, now coaching at Yale.

Golf Organizations Settle Ball Argument

Another difference of opinion looms between the two great golf ruling bodies of the world—the United States Golf association and the Royal and Ancient club of St. Andrews. For some time the two bodies have been at the well-known sword's points over the matter of the new standard ball. Now they are split on the important question of amateurism.

At the annual meeting of the U. S. G. A. in New York several weeks ago, W. C. Fowkes, Jr., chairman of the ball and implements committee, announced that the national body had been assured that no balls will be placed on the market in America by American manufacturers after January 1, 1927, which do not conform with the new size and weight recommended by the United States association.

Several American business houses are being established at Sydney, Australia.

Flatbush Golf Course Held Most Valuable

What is said to be the most valuable golf course in the world is a nine-hole links in Brooklyn, the property of the old Flatbush Golf club. The course embraces fifty acres of ground valued at $50,000 an acre, or a total of $4,000,000. Bedford avenue, one of the busiest thoroughfares in Brooklyn, runs through the middle of the course.

William E. Harmon, who controls the property, is responsible for its being conserved for golf. No. 5 green is close to his apartments complex, as is the sixth tee. Maurice McCarthy, who laid out the course, has arranged the line of play so as to avoid any suggestion of crowding. The length of the course is 3065 yards.

MILKMEEN DEFEAT CHURCHMEN, 9-3

Pastor-Player Featured In Double Play; Pitchers Get Strikeouts

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.
One home run, two triples, a couple of doubles and a scattering amount of singles featured the game yesterday between the Christian church and Calla Lily crew, played at the Broadway High school diamond. Added to the merit of the event was a double-play, to say nothing of eighteen strikeouts by two pitchers in five and a half innings. The score was: Milkmen 9, Churchmen 3.

Mize, second baseman for the churchmen, got the homer. H. Kerns, shortstop for the milkmen, collected two triples and Randall and Thompson accounted for doubles. Blakemore, pitching for the milkmen, got ten strikeouts, while Bates, working for the churchmen, fanned eight.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole, the pastor-player, was the pivotal point in a double play and accounted for one of the three runs made by the churchmen. He scored in the sixth inning, after rapping out a long single to left, and came home on Mize's circuit clout. He also made five putouts and one assist.

Today's battle is scheduled to be between the Public Service and the Glendale Creamery. These teams were scheduled to play Wednesday, but the game was postponed on account of wet grounds.

TIGERS DEFEATED

With Johnson burning them across their chests, the Tigers fell before the Senators, 6 to 2. Nine double plays enlivened the proceedings.

Ball-Player

REV. CLIFFORD A. COLE, pastor of Central Christian church, and first baseman on the church team.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church, yesterday proved he is just as much at home on the ball field as he is in the pulpit. Cole played first base for the Christian church team against the Calla Lily crew in a twilight league game. Here is what he did: Worked Blakemore for a walk the first time up. Hit a hot grounder towards third on his next trip to the plate, which brought in the churchmen's first score. Smashed a single to left field on his third trip to the plate, stole second and scored on Mize's home run hit. Fielded 1,000 per cent, accepting five chances without a miscue. Assisted in a double play in the second inning, when he took Bates' throw on H. Kerns' grounder, touched first base to retire the runner, and then shot the ball to Catcher Bowers, who tagged King, trying to score on the play. Thus he is credited with three times at bat, one run, one hit, one stolen base, five putouts, one assist, no errors, and with driving in one run.

DOUBLE BILL AT PARK ON SUNDAY

Postal Employees In First Game; Merchants And Painters Next

The third and deciding game of the series between the Glendale Merchants and the Pasadena Paints will be fought out Sunday at the local ball park on San Fernando road. The paint slingers won the first game at Glendale, and the merchants evened things by copying the second contest last Sunday at Brookside park, Pasadena.

In addition to finding out which is the best team, local fans will have an opportunity to witness a double header for the Glendale letter carriers will hook up with the Los Angeles clerks, starting at 1:30 o'clock. The second game will start at 3:15 o'clock.

The Merchants will have a strong lineup for Sunday's affair, according to Big Boss "Pep" Kerwin. Stradley, Cryan, Doll, Fanner and Nordeen will be the infielders. Wasco, Stiner and Emerson will take care of the gardens. McKenzie and Seiser are slated for pitching duty, with Kerwin working behind the log.

Japan's Prince Regent Gets Taste of 'Static'

TOKYO, May 22.—Radio fans in America who complain of static have a fellow sufferer in the Japanese prince regent, who recently ordered a radio set of domestic manufacture.

When the time came for a demonstration the machine gave forth a weird assortment of discordant noises that failed to give satisfaction to the heir to the Japanese throne.

The expert blamed the failure on "static." The Prince Regent smiled skeptically. He did not ask for a second demonstration.

Revival Is Noted In Japanese Ship Trade

TOKYO, May 22.—A distinct revival in Japan's shipping industry has been noticeable since January 1, 1925, according to a survey of the marine industry recently made by the Kobe Shipping exchange. Both overseas and coastwise trade, according to the survey, is in better condition now than at any time in recent years.

The complete report of Japanese vessels allocated to the various trade routes shows a total of 562 ships, with a combined tonnage of 3,055,700, now in commission.

WILSON IS WINNER

Wilson Intermediate school seniors won their first indoor game from Glendale Intermediate school yesterday in the Wilson grounds. The score was 15-4. Both teams putting up a good fight, but the Glendale team was badly crippled through the absence of Bates, their star pitcher. Batteries for the two schools were: Wilson, Harold Shaw and Rupert Holmberg; Glendale, Steve Fieri and Norville Stanley. The game was umpired by A. G. Bennett and Amer Petty.

LOCAL NET STARS LOSE FAST TLTS

Dynamiters Are Defeated At Alhambra, But Girls Win Matches Here

By ROSS M. RUSSELL JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.
Glendale High's strangle hold on the Central league against whatever of taking its loop gonfalon into camp for this season. The local tennis squad went down into a bad defeat yesterday on the Moor courts when the Alhambra net demons subdued the local men by a big margin—11-3. Wayne Maxwell, captain, and first man for the dynamiters, who has been ill for the last few days, was greatly handicapped, and lost his match to Houser, 6-3, 6-3.

Francis Hardey was the lone local victor. He had the better of his last match with Behw, 6-4, 6-4. Brick Robinson lost out in the third singles to Welk of Alhambra, 7-5, 6-4.

Win in Doubles
Both doubles matches were easy meat for the Moors. Mik and Rolley piled on Finch and Townsend in the first doubles to the tune of 6-4, 6-4; while the Monday brothers had little difficulty in walking over Johnson and Brightbilly, 6-1, 6-3.

Although the boys' team suffered a bad defeat at Alhambra the girls' net outfit socked the Moors here, 15-2. Mary Barbara Taylor captured the first singles, 6-2, 6-2; Virginia Clark won out in the second singles after steady battle, 3-6, 6-2, 7-5. Jettie Zeitlin won the fourth singles, 6-3, 6-1. In the first doubles Ruth McCabe and Louise Hoyt took the Moor pair down the line, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, and in the second outfits Margaret Anderson and Naita Taylor swapped the Alhambra duet, 7-5, 6-1. The third singles was the only match dropped by the dynamiters, Alice Merd losing out in three drawn outs, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, May 22.—An invitation is issued to all members of the O. E. S. residing in the city to meet next Monday night 8 o'clock in the Highway Highlands club room for the purpose of organizing.

From present reports on the ticket sales for the Jarman concert it is assured that the La Cresenta Women's club will have a substantial sum added to its fund. Mrs. Charles Truck, president of the club and Mr. F. L. Sullivan, chairman of ways and means committee are working hard to make the affair a big success and feel confident that by presenting such artists as Mrs. Frederick Crowe of San Francisco, pianist and Miss Mafaret Jarman of Los Angeles, jazzo soprano, the music lovers of the valley will be prompted to attend. These artists have received much favorable criticism and have been requested to make return engagements wherever they have appeared. It is through personal friendships in the club that they consented to come for the benefit of the club building fund.

The concert will be given in the Crescenta school tomorrow night. Members of the P. T. A. riding circle who attended the making of "Manna" at the Philharmonic auditorium in Los Angeles are warm in their praise of the performance presented by the former cast under management of Florence Dobinson of Glendale.

An old-fashioned box supper party will be given at the Montrose Community church tonight when the girls of Miss Willa's class will have charge of the paper and program to follow. Proceeds of the party will be used to complete the girls' basketball court. A cordial invitation is extended to all to join in the fun.

A number of the members of the Crescenta Women's club attended the reciprocity day program at Tujunga when the Highland Park Ebell club presented "The King's Highway."

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Miller formerly conducted the Mierpurching establishment having returned to the valley. After a tour in the east and several months visit in Florida they are glad to be home again in California. They are residing in Spirit Heights.

Mr. W. D. Kemper is busy building a new home having sold his former residence to Mr. and Mrs. Swenson. Until the new home is completed Mr. and Mrs. Kemper will reside in Glendale. The Swensons formerly occupied the house belonging to Harry Peters now touring the British Isles.

Mrs. H. Salisbury of Westmontrose avenue is erecting another house on her property the building being of hollow tile.

Mr. Lynne of Glendale, is erecting a house on Grandview avenue, which the family will occupy when complete. Mr. Lynne is at present living in Glendale.

YOUNG BUSY MAN

Scott's pitching and the around work of Young staked the Giants to a 5 to 4 decision over the Pirates. Young won the game with a single in the sixth and saved it with a great catch of Smith's liner with two on the ninth.

Many lumber concerns of Glendale have combined to ship product to this country.

British Golf Championship Play Decided

TROON, May 22.—Miss Joyce Wetherell, perennial woman golf champion of England, played through to another championship today when she defeated Miss Cecil Leitch, former champion, one up on the nineteenth hole of the second round today. The match was all square at the end of the first nine and again at the end of the second round, making an extra hole necessary to decide the title.

SPORT CHATTER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, May 22.—Judged upon the returns from the intersectional meetings to date, the west of Mr. Greeley's enduring fancy owns not a ball club capable of making a contest out of either of the major league series. They haven't seen a world series in the west since 1920, and the indications are that they still will be looking vainly toward the eastern horizon in October.

The New York Giants got away running, at the expense of the eastern clubs, but were expected to come back to the fold when the western entries came on for the first intersectional clashes. Instead, the Giants have stepped out to an even longer lead, because of the falsetto showing of the western clubs in this section of National league territory.

The Chicago Cubs, for example, came east, a possible pennant winner, and are going back the most thoroughly beaten club of any in the field. They have won exactly twice in thirteen starts, beginning their invasion by dropping four straight to the Braves. The St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds have only slightly better records, each winning three games and losing nine.

Only one western club, the Pirates, has improved its position, and it happened to be like the man with a rope for a collar and a tree-limb for a tie-clasp. Things couldn't have been worse, so they became better.

The Pirates are the western entry to show a margin of profit in the east, winning seven games and losing five, but, meantime, the Giants have made a merry jest of the National league race, so-called.

The American league circuit has witnessed similar triumphs in the west for the leading contenders from the east. When the eastern invasion began, the Indians were riding high on the crest, as a result of manhandling the Tigers and Browns, but now the Indians are down in fourth place and the Athletics and Senators are making a two-team race of it.

The Macks have won ten games and lost two, since venturing beyond the Alleghenies. The Senators replied by winning nine and losing five. Even the care-worn Yankees, staggering along with a covey of elderly pitchers, have almost broken even against the western clubs, winning six games and losing seven.

The Boston Red Sox, of course, have contrived to give aid and comfort to the harassed section. They have won only four games in fourteen played.

BROADCASTING BY SHIPS DISCUSSED

International Radio Body To Consider This Step At Next Session

By ROBERT MACK
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
WASHINGTON, May 22.—Broadcasting of entertainment from ships at sea and commercial telephonic communication between ships and shore are two features of radio that must await action by the forthcoming international radio conference.

Although several tests of broadcasting from steamers of the United States lines have been carried out under an experimental license, it was stated at the shipping board today that no scheme of ships broadcasting or ship-shore radio telephony would be worked out until after it had been discussed and approved by the many interested world powers.

Under existing international agreements, it was pointed out, there is a definite prohibition of the use of the ether waves of the ocean for any service other than necessary official dispatches, commercial telegraph communication and distress signals. Although the United States is not a party to the radio convention, adherence is given to the main provisions of this treaty, drawn before broadcasting had become a vital part of radio.

Ship Broadcasting
About a year ago the first test of broadcasting from ships was carried out by the S. S. Leviathan and was followed by a communication from Great Britain to the state department directing attention to the fact that these trans-

TRAFFIC BODY TO CONDUCT SURVEY

Complete Investigation Into Glendale Conditions Will Be Made, Announced

Clinton said that the work involved would extend over a period of a quarter of a century and cost $300,000,000. He demonstrated to the entire satisfaction of his hearers that unless Glendale started now to make her plans for a system of major highways, she would be doing as Los Angeles is now doing in a very few years from now and doing it at a cost of tens if not hundreds of times what it will cost if we start today.

Clearing House
Dr. McClintock explained how the Los Angeles Traffic commission functions as a clearing house for the many other organizations which are interested in and working for the improvement of traffic conditions. He said "Highways are the arteries of commerce, without them we have no commerce." Nations with major systems of rail and water transportation are prosperous nations. Nations without intelligently planned and operated major highways do not prosper. The highways of a city, like those of a nation, furnish a reliable index of its present prosperity and of its prospects for continued growth and prosperity.

According to the doctor, there are two phases to the traffic problem. We must not only provide the highways, we must also regulate the traffic on them. He showed how the recently-adopted system of traffic regulations had made it possible for the same number of motor vehicles to pass along Broadway, Los Angeles, in a given time, that would only have been able to pass in the same time had it widened Broadway by 50 per cent of its present width. Figure in dollars and cents, the Los Angeles Traffic commission paid for itself many times over in that one thing. Just stop a minute and figure out what it would have cost to widen Broadway enough to accommodate 50 per cent more traffic than it now carries.

Serves Varied Interests
The doctor explained how the commission helped to iron out the wrinkles which always develop when there is a conflict of interests. The street car companies want their cars to move without interference from automobiles; the automobile club is jealous of the rights of motorists; the merchants want parking space for their patrons, slow-moving trucks and horse-drawn vehicles interfere with the flow of lighter, faster vehicles; pedestrians still have a right to be on the streets it seems; and left to themselves none of these opposing interests get together. Improvement associations want their streets opened, widened and paved; chambers of commerce are interested for, without roads, there would be no commerce; planning commissions are handicapped in their work because it is not understood—not appreciated—and they do not have the co-operation and funds necessary to enable them to function efficiently.

The traffic commission serves all of these interests as the clearing houses serve the banks, helping all to speed up by getting the different groups together and then interesting the people in the things which they must be interested in if the city is to grow and prosper. The mission of the traffic commission is not so much the planning of things as it is the helping of others to carry out the plans evolved by them. It does not take the place of any existing agency, it supplements existing agencies by co-operating with them and endeavoring to bring about the co-operation of all existing agencies which are or should be interested in traffic problems.

Has Paid Experts
The Los Angeles Traffic commission has a force of paid experts, traffic engineers and consultants, whose services have been placed at the disposal of the Glendale Traffic commission, without cost to Glendale. The automobile club has also placed at our disposal its force of salaried experts, and a mass of valuable data about the Glendale highways, already compiled. The services of the Regional Planning commission are available to the traffic commission. With all of these agencies ready and waiting for a call, it would be foolish not to undertake a work which promises such big returns for so small an investment. At least that is what the gentlemen present last night decided, for they all endorsed the plan outlined by President Walters of the Glendale Traffic commission and put their names on the dotted line, thereby making it possible for the commission to employ a full-time executive secretary to put the following program into operation:

First, to let the people know what the traffic commission is and what it purposes to do for Glendale, and, while doing this, to find out what other organizations are doing along traffic lines, what they believe should be done, and, as far as possible, to ascertain what the people of Glendale want done. After being properly introduced it is proposed that, through committees to be appointed, the following work will be undertaken:

Traffic Plan Body
A major traffic plan committee will—with the co-operation of all other existing agencies which can be of assistance—undertake the study of a major highway plan for Glendale which will provide adequate highway facilities in, through and around Glendale for all time to come. Special attention being paid to the immediate pressing problems of providing additional outlets for the traffic now concentrated at South Brand and at Fernando, additional crossings over the Los Angeles river and railroad and street car tracks, and to the opening and widening of existing or new thorough arteries to care for through traffic.

A traffic regulation committee to investigate traffic conditions, with the view to preparing a traffic code which will tend to improve existing traffic conditions.

A rapid transit committee to investigate the problem of the rapid transit of passengers and freight between Glendale and other cities, especially Los Angeles, by surface, subway and elevated lines.

An aviation committee to study the problems of aerial navigation and its regulation, both over the city and in its airport.

The commission will endeavor to be at all times in a position to serve Glendale in any way in which a non-partisan, non-sectarian organization can serve in civic affairs which have a traffic connection. It will at no time enter into the field of politics in any other way than to be of assistance to the people and their elected representatives in the work of securing for them, at their request, the removal of any traffic problem under consideration, and then only when the problem under discussion has a bearing on the subject of traffic. As an example of how the Los Angeles Traffic commission functions in this respect, the following instance is cited: In September, 1924, the city engineer of Los Angeles drew up specifications for pavement. Many of Los Angeles city organizations, including a petition against the proposed pavement. Through the efforts of the Traffic commission the American Society of Civil Engineers prepared a report on the subject of pavements which was used by the commission as a basis of its recommendations to the Los Angeles City Council, that patent payments, as such, be eliminated in order to obtain open competition. The commission is quite naturally and logically interested in seeing that highways are properly paved and maintained.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, May 22.—Except for the reactionary tone of the public utility stocks and a few of the railroad and industrial shares, the market was strong and active today, with prices of many of the speculative leaders regaining the positions they had lost on profit-taking.

Motor stocks resumed their vigorous upward movement shortly after the noon period, the oils having shown their inability to lead the market into a general rally. The motors were helped along by the high-priced industrial leaders, in each of which the bears were put to rout, as prices advanced from 2 to 6 points in prominent stocks.

Announcement that Packard would retire all of its outstanding preferred stock; that Pierce-Arrow was making good progress in cutting down outstanding obligations; that Willies-Overland directors, which recently resumed dividend payments, would soon submit a plan for the payment of 30 per cent accumulated dividends on this stock, and that all of the motor companies were being pushed to capacity in order to keep pace with the market orders, led to heavy buying of the motors.

Pierce-Arrow stocks were unusually active and strong, with the preferred up 6 points; prior preferred up 5; Willies-Overland preferred up 6; Mack Trucks up 5; General Motors, Jordan, Studebaker and other motor shares fractionally higher on good buying.

Traders refused to follow through the movement in oil stocks. After fractional advances in a number of the independent stocks, like Sinclair and Pan-American, the oils were put on the inactive list, where they remained for the balance of the session.

The increase in Pacific Oil's dividend rate from 2 to 3 per cent was without effect on the market movements of that stock, and Marland, which was recently restored to a dividend basis, also has remained unchanged.

The industrial and specialty stocks still higher, with the best scores by stocks with pool backing. Industrial Alcohol scored a 3-point gain and sold at a new high of 90 1/2. American Can sold around its high record of 193. Sears-Roebuck, Coca-Cola, General Electric, etc., made the best selling record of the week to date.

Rails were not conspicuous, though Reading, New York Central and Southern Railway sold higher on good buying. St. Pauls, having eliminated a good share of the short interest, were again reactionary.

Railroad stocks came to the front in the last hour and led the market in a brisk closing rally. International Paper advanced six points to 68 1/2 in an active movement in this period. Nash Motors returned to the active list and jumped 13 points to 424. The market showed no traces of profit taking at the close.

Stock sales today: 1,899,600 shares; bonds $15,148,000.

MARKET SUMMARY

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—Pacific Oil Co. by action of its directors, has placed its stock on a $3 annual dividend basis. Stockholders of the Bank of Italy corporation are meeting today to approve an increase of its capital stock by 20,000 shares at $185. It is now capitalized at $14,500,000. The purpose of the issue, which would be made on July 10, according to President A. C. P. C. is to increase the number of shareholders.

Decline of cotton during the last twenty-four hours is attributed to estimated greater acreage being planted this year, according to market wires.

Bankers of California today took the first deep breath in two days, when it was learned the "soft pedal" is being applied to the branch banking problem at the convention of the California Bankers' association at Santa Barbara, which closes tomorrow.

The Pacific Fruit Express today announced it had 33,000 refrigerator cars ready to handle California's fruit and vegetable crop, which has started moving to eastern markets.
